Vail, Colo. - President Ford met with 15 of his advisers Friday in an effort to formulate new policy proposals on energy that would both increase the supply and restrict consumption.

Ron Nessen, the White House press secretary, described the session as "intense" with a "clash of ideas," but one in which the "choices were narrowed but no definitive decisions were made."

"This is tough as hell," Ford told the group as they grappled with the issues, Nessen reported.

He said Ford had ordered that there be "no public discussion" of the options under consideration, but he said: "This is its going to deal with both increasing supply and it's going to deal with restricting consumption, and it's going to deal with three time-frames: The short term, which is between now and 1977; the midterm, which is 1977 to 1985, and the long term, which is beyond 1985.

"It's going to deal with the impact of the energy policy on the domestic economy and it's going to deal with the impact on the international economy and on international relations."

Ford plans to announce his decision in his State of the Union Message to Congress on Jan. 20. Nessen said some of the proposals would be carried out mitted to Congress for enactment into

Ford was still reading a 50-page report that arrived Thursday night and was prepared by CIA director William E. Colby in response to allegations that the agency had been engaged in illegal domestic spying activities during the Nixon administration.

Ford said that he probably would make

After an hour and a quarter afternoon meeting, Ford told the energy planners: "This was a good day's work. I guess it's too late for you to do any skiing but you can walk around town if you want to."

Those attending Friday's meeting were Rogers C. B. Morton, interior secretary; Frank G. Zarb, administrator of the Federal Energy Administration; William E. Auditors Find Lack Of Internal Control

By GERRY SWITZER Star Staff Writer

A system of complete internal control is lacking in the Lancaster County Treasurer's office, a report released Friday by State Auditor Ray A. C. Johnson revealed.

In a long-awaited report of the audit conducted by the state auditor's office after a shortage in funds was discovered in the treasurer's office in September, it is recommended to Treasurer Frank Golden that a complete study be made of all procedures in his office.

More than $111 million was processed through that office between July 1, 1973, and Sept. 10, 1974, which "would indicate the necessity for control systems, machine modernization and sound administrative control, responsive and responsible to the taxpayer as well as county management," the report states.

Study 'Urgently Recommended' The auditors "urgently recommend" that a study be undertaken of such procedures as validating machinery, accounting records, computerization, personnel usage and application.

Specifically referring to the operations of the motor vehicle department, the report says that the balancing procedure used by that department was inadequate and did not properly reflect the financial condition on a daily basis.

The audit showed that on July 11, 1974, a validating tape, or tapes, containing motor vehicle tax transactions for 91 numbers was not accounted for.

'Gaps' Found

A review of the numerical file of validated motor tax statements in the county treasurer's main office revealed that subject statements were also missing from the permanent file, the report says, noting that no attempt was made by personnel of the office to account for such

The auditors also report that the daily balancing procedure used by the main collection office reflected cash position only and does not reflect depository

Individual Drawers Urged

The auditors recommend that the office study the possibility of establishing separate cash drawers, using individual validators for each cashier and vesting the responsibility of balancing the current day's receipts with each individual

"No person having access to cash and checks received in the process of receipting for daily collections should have any duties relating to subsequent deposit of such cash and checks or duties involved in the daily balancing procedure or the recording of daily balance sheet data," the auditors say.

The recommendation is that another employe who has had no access to the functions of the cashier's cage and who has had no part in the daily balance procedure should be charged with the responsibility of preparing the daily

According to the report, the treasurer's office uses a procedure whereby one or more employes who have access to the office cash and checks can maintain control of the ensuing deposit of a day's receipt without verification as to accuracy of amount by personnel independent of cash and check access.

Also criticized in the report was the existence of idle funds deposited in

"It appears that as a management prerogative, idle funds have been maintained in local depositories for several years," the auditors state.

Inactive checking accounts and idle funds could have resulted in earnings which would "ultimately have been considered as cash assets available for county budget and levy setting," the report

Anthropologist: Sioux's Idea Of Justice Different

By GORDON WINTERS

Star Staff Writer The Lakota (Sioux) "most definitely" would not have surrendered the right to administer justice on their own land, an assistant professor of anthropology testified Friday.

Dr. Raymond DeMallie of Indiana University said that the Lakota were "shocked" by the white custom of locking up wrongdoers in guard houses at military outposts.

The Lakota concept of justice, DeMallie said, emphasizes harmony and restoring the unity of the group.

Punishment among the Lakota was based on reciprocity, and reimbursement for whatever was destroyed was an important method to this end, he said.

Jurisdiction Key

The issue of criminal jurisdiction on the land reserved by the Sioux under the Fort Laramie Treaty of 1868 is being argued in U.S. District Court in connection with criminal charges arising from the occupation of Wounded Knee in 1973.

Defense attorneys claim that under the treaty the U.S. government has no jurisdiction on which to base prosecution.

DeMallie was questioned closely by special prosecutor Duane Nelson on the terms of earlier treaties in which the Sioux appear to acknowledge, at various times, the supremacy and authority of the United

Especially in earlier treaties, DeMallie said, the Indians who signed them did not know what they were signing because of translation problems.

'Almost Impossible'

DeMallie said the problems of translation from one language to another are great and "trying to translate between radically different cultures is almost impossible.'

DeMallie said, however, that the interpreters at negotiations for the Treaty of 1868 were well known and respected.

Cancer Stills Benny's Humor

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) - The show world reacted in sorrow and disbelief Friday to the death from cancer of Jack Benny, whose gentle, self-effacing humor brought laughter to Americans for half a "I can't believe he's gone," said Mary Livingstone to Benny's longtime manager, Irving Fein. She had been the comedian's wife for 47 years and on radio played his wise-cracking friend.

His fellow stars responded in the same manner, finding it hard to imagine the entertainment scene without Benny and his myth of stinginess, his mock-serious violin playing, his interminable "takes" staring at an audience with fingers under his chin as waves of laughter responded to his perplexity.

"I didn't realize he was that sick, it happened so fast," said actor James Stewart. "It's almost hard to grasp. We'll miss him tremendously, as will everyone."

Benny died of cancer of the pancreas late Thursday night. He was 80, having proclaimed in comedy routines for decades that he was 39.

He was active almost until the end. While preparing for a benefit appearance in Dallas on Oct. 19 he suffered stomach cramps. He wanted to perform and was annoyed when doctors would not permit it. Hospital tests in Los Angeles disclosed nothing abnormal, and he made plans to appear in a television special and to costar with Walter Matthau in the film version of "The Sunshine Boys." On Nov. 12, Benny and his oldest friend, George Burns, joined in an interview for

Price Of Meat May Dip In '75

Washington (UPI) - Retail meat prices for all of 1975 may average no higher than in 1974 and may be even lower, although total consumer supplies will be down slightly, a spokesman for major meat packers said Friday.

Richard Lyng, president of the American Meat Institute, told a news conference that while domestic beef production and consumer beef supplies will rise to a new record next year, total meat supplies will be down because of a sharp dip in predicted pork production.

President Ford's reported decision to seek voluntary limits on 1975 beef imports is not likely to have any impact on consumer prices, Lyng

He said uncertainties about weather and the general economy make it impossible to accurately predict meat prices. Under questioning, however, he said next year's meat price average could be at or below the 1974 average which was inflated by high prices early

"If we have good crops and inflation slows, there is a good chance consumers will not be paying any more (for meat) by the end of 1975

Relaxation Of Standards For Auto Bumpers Urged

WASHINGTON (AP) - The Department of Transportation Friday proposed relaxing its automobile bumper standards to let manufacturers decrease car weight and improve fuel mileage by installing lighter bumpers on new

The department said its current standards, which require that the front and rear bumpers be strong enough to withstand a 5 mile-per-hour crash, had not produced enough benefits to offset the extra costs of the bumper systems.

It proposed dropping the no-damage standard from 5 miles per hour to 21/2 miles per hour on both the front and rear bumpers. The no-damage standard would be increased to 4 miles per hour for all cars weighing 3,800 pounds or more after Sept. 1, 1978, and to all vehicles over 3,800 pounds after Sept. 1, 1979. criticized by automakers as adding weight to new cars while producing little benefits.

The spokesman said the 21/2 mile-per-hour standard cannot become effective until the agency receives public comment on its proposal. He estimated the final rule could be out in time for automakers to install the lighter bumpers on 1976 model cars.

Dickeson said, "whether he's dealing with a possible misdemeanor or a felony, and it could be both. "He must assume he's dealing with a possible felony insofar as the civil rights of the arrested are concerned." Dickeson noted police statements that 4,453 DWI arrests have been made since January 1972 in Lincoln; that no warning of constitutional rights was required, and that the State Supreme Court has ruled in two cases "there is no right to counsel under the 1972 implied consent law."

"I take it that this has been true for virtually all 4,453 arrests through Dec. 24, 1974," Dickeson said, adding, "To my knowledge there haven't been any Nebraska Supreme Court cases," on the warnings or rights to an attorney under the law:

'4,000 Invalid Arrests'

Thus "it appears that you have probably conducted 4,000 invalid arrests," Dickeson said, "and have deprived 4,000 citizens of their rights out of a mistaken notion that there were no felonies involved and only traffic violations."

Dickeson also questioned the interpretation and constitutionality of the implied consent law: "Since preliminary breath refusal is a separate crime," if that's refused "and then breath, blood or urine (tests) are refused, is (the suspect) a second or even a third offense refuser?'

The accused may "be involved in three separate criminal charges" at once — "preliminary refusal, refusal and DWI," Dickeson said.

He challenged Police Chief Joseph T. Carroll and Inspector B. Dean Leitner, who wrote the Dec. 23 reply to the mayor, to "tell us once again, now, that no legal counsel is necessary. You are wrong.'

Dickeson said he is "sympathetic" to "the plight of the (police) officer," but more so to that of persons arrested, because of the possible legal consequences.

Alternatives

"If you didn't know the law that two of the seven crimes committed were felonies," Dickeson addressed police, "you were negligent in the conduct and administration of your department and the conduct" of the DWI arrests. "If you did know" that, "and intentionally disregarded the constitutional rights of 4,000 citizens, you should be silent and get legal counsel immediately."

Dickeson also referred to part of the police reply, attributing this quotation to Municipal Judge Neal H. Dusenberry: "If the defendants did not violate the law, there would have been no arrest."

Repeating his original charges of police-state tactics, into which he called for an official investigation. Dickeson said "an arrest is not a conviction." Dickeson vestated Dusenberry's quotation in the police letter this way: If a DWI suspect "wasn't guilty, you wouldn't have arrested him?" Dickeson also argued semantics of the police reply, stating that the "Lincoln Police Department's highest priority has been and still is public relations." He added, "Surely your highest priority is proper enforcement of the laws?"

Dickeson said police disregard of his charges will "succeed in convincing us" that police "policies are based on the proposition that arrest establishes guilt" and that police are ignorant of constitutional rights and laws they must enforce, or that police "choose to ignore them, in violation of your oath of office."

Assistant Police Chief Dale Adams and Mayor Schwartzkopf both said City Atty. Dick Wood's reply to Dickeson Friday would speak for them.

'Arrest Not Guilt'

"I know that it has been the policy of the Lincoln Police Department and also of the city prosecutor's office that an arrest does not constitute guilt," Wood said.

"A police officer makes an arrest based on probable cause that a violation of a statute or ordinance has occurred."

Further, "I don't think there's any basis to (Dickeson's) statement at all" that warnings of constitutional rights are required in possible DWI cases. "I am in full agreement" with statements to the contrary by Nebraska Atty. Gen. Clarence A. H. Meyer and Inspector Leitner, Wood said.

"Regarding the administration of the DWI enforcement program of the police department, Wood said, "I think Mr. Dickeson is in error and I don't agree with him." He said "courtesy toward the public in carrying out their law enforcement duties" is a high priority.

"Mr. Dickeson, in both of his letters, has called for an investigation," Wood said, "I think the police department would be very willing, and in fact, invite anyone" from the news media or agencies to which Dickeson has addressed his complaints "to spend an evening or evenings with an ASAP unit so they can observe first-hand how these units operate."

ASAP is the Alcohol Safety Action Project. Any criticism of the police or ASAP, Wood said, should be "based on facts" after observing operations in the police department and in patrol cars, "and I don't see that in any of Mr. Dickeson's comments.

Thomson called the action, which was not legally required, a "clarification of the entire procedure."

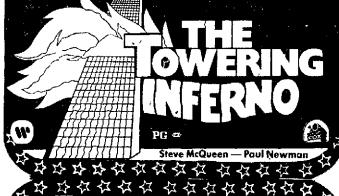

Controversy over the outcome of the Nov. 5 election has taken the two candidates to federal and state courts, through a recount and into a ballot-by-ballot review of the election. Dickeson Accuses Police Of 4,000 'Invalid' DWI

Roger V. Dickeson has leveled more charges at the Lincoln Police Department, claiming negligence in 4,000 arrests since 1972 by police enforcing laws against drunken driving.

The charges followed Dickeson's allegations earlier this week that police have harassed persons picked up for driving while intoxicated (DWI) and have not informed them of their constitutional Dickeson, president of Mid-America Webpress, Lincoln, responded in a memorandum dated Dec. 26, to the point-by-point reply police made to Mayor Sam Schwartzkopf regarding Dickeson's initial charges.

7 Possible Crimes

Under Nebraska's implied consent law, Dickeson said, "there are seven possible crimes involved in every DWI accost and arrest: five misdemeanors and two felonies." The felonies are third-offense convictions for refusing a blood, breath or urine test, or for DWI.

Dickeson questioned the police statement that DWI suspects are not warned of their rights because the caution is "not extended to misdemeanors and traffic violations.

When a police officer stops a DWI suspect, "he doesn't know the offense record of the person,"

Dickeson said, "whether he's dealing with a possible misdemeanor or a felony, and it could be both. "He must assume he's dealing with a possible felony insofar as the civil rights of the arrested are concerned.'

Dickeson noted police statements that 4,453 DWI arrests have been made since January 1972 in Lincoln; that no warning of constitutional rights was required, and that the State Supreme Court has ruled in two cases "there is no right to counsel under the 1972 implied consent law.'

Redevelopment Money Problems

over the disposition of Lincoln's first installent of an anticipated $8.9 million in community redevelopment money the city is scheduled to receive during the next six years. Lincoln is slated to get some $499,-000 in 1975 and the carving up of that amount has pulled contending forces into position.

Community Development Director Leo Scherer and Planning Director Douglas Brogden are lobbying to have the Clinton neighborhood designated as the major first-year redevelopment project, which would put that neighborhood in position as recipient of the lion's share of the initial installment of federal money. The City Council has already earmarked $123,- • 000 for redevelopment projects in the Clin-

But several members of a special city task force studying neighborhood redevelopment don't want all the money "dumped into Clinton," in the words of Coleen Seng, who lives in the University Place neighborhood. Seng said there is support for spreading the federal contribution around as "seed money" so that a number of projects can get going next year.

A task force subcommittee will consider the distribution of funds and make a

A controversy appears to be a-brewing recommendation regarding the city's 1975 community redevelopment program.

It is hoped, of course, that over the iong run the redevelopment money is equitably distributed. And it would be too bad if delays in getting projects started dampened the enthusiasm of residents of neighborhoods who are interested in getting things done now.

But it appears that the city is intent on taking priority project approach and that is for the best. Sinking sufficient funds into the most immediate needs is better for the city as a whole than spreading a small amount of money too thinly over several projects. The latter would probably amount to an inefficient use of money.

If memory serves us correctly, residents of the Belmont community came to the City Council some years ago and offered to wait for a year for a swimming pool which should have gone to them earlier so that the whole city could benefit from a second pool — a warm-up pool — at Woods Park which would attract national or international swimming events. It was the offering to wait that impressed us. Belmont, of course, got its pool and there is a warm-up pool at Woods Park.

That is the kind of community spirit which will best serve the city.

The Pride Of Waukegan

From vaudeville to the television talk shows, Jack Benny entertained Americans for sixty years. He was best known and loved by his millions of fans throughout the years, however, not for his first and last efforts, but for being the king of radio comedians and then for his successful transition to the television medium.

The contradictions between his private life and the image he sought to portray in public were the foods that nourished his comic genius. In private Benny was generous, a competent violinist and student of serious music and obviously as mortal as any man. On stage he was the ageless pennypincher and musical flack.

Benny was repected in his trade for being a master of subtlety, understatement, expressions and gestures and for having a better sense of timing than perhaps any comedian in the world.

Jack Benny was, also, because of his age and talent, another symbol of continuity in life, part of the thread that runs through generations and that helps to bridge whatever gaps may exist.

Young people who smiled at his reminiscences of late are the grandchildren and great-grandchildren of people who laughed at Benny in his vaudeville days or on radio, sparring with his regulars or Fred

As Benny was dying Thursday and his friends gathered, Bob Hope said his death would mark the beginning of the end of an era, a generation of entertainers who had traveled the route full-circle, from vaudeville to radio and movies and the club circuit to television, the likes of Benny, Groucho Marx, George Burns — and Hope,

It was and is a great generation of entertainers and Benny was one of the greatest among them.

LANGSTON-HUGHES

They Had A Dream

From an apartment in Harlem, Langston Hughes told about the tribulations of his people in an avalanche of words over a span of 40 years. Sometimes he told the story with gentle irony, sometimes with biting satire, but never did he tell it in rage.

A versatile writer, Hughes' works encompassed the entire literary spectrum: poems, short stories, novels, autobiographies, newspaper columns. anthologies, plays and the lyrics for a musical.

In all, he produced some 37 volumes of his own work, and out of it he came to be regarded as the leading poet of his race. $\Leftrightarrow \Leftrightarrow \Leftrightarrow$

Born in Joplin, Mo., in 1902, Hughes was the victim of a broken home. He was raised by his grandmother and after her death, by an aunt. He wrote his first poem for graduation ceremonies at his grammar school in Lincoln, Ill. That was in 1915.

Shortly afterward, his mother remarried and moved with young Langston to Cleveland where he attended Central High School and became seriously committed to writing. After high school, Hughes enrolled at Columbia University but somehow he didn't fit and quit after his first year.

For the next few years, Hughes knocked around the world on a freighter, visiting Africa, The Netherlands, Italy and winding up in Paris where he landed a cook's job in a Parisian bistro.

the small society

In 1925, he came home broke and took a job as busboy in a Washington, D.C., hotel. Then he got his big break. As poet Vachal Lindsay dined at the hotel one day, Hughes summoned up his courage and slipped a sheath of his verse on the table beside Lindsay.

Lindsay read it, was impressed and helped Hughes break through to a publisher. That verse, "Weary Blues," came out in 1926 as Hughes' first book. A second volume followed in 1927, and Hughes caught a wave of popularity.

Feeling a need for more education, Hughes enrolled at Lincoln University and before his graduation in 1929 had written his first novel, "Not Without Laughter," published in 1930. It won him the Harmond Award for literature.

Hughes' work reflected his compassion for the underdog, the persecuted, the poor little people of the world, and his feelings led him into the role of activist in workers' movements. ☆ ☆ ☆

In 1933, he traveled to the Soviet Union to work on a scenario on Negro life in the' United States. In 1936, Hughes, who sympathized with the Loyalist cause, worked as a war correspondent for the Baltimore Afro-American during the Spanish Civil War.

These acts brought his loyalty under question and later led to frequent picketing of his lecture tours in the United States. Finally, in 1953, he was questioned and cleared of alleged early Communist sympathies by the Senate Permanent Committee on Investigations.

Hughes pricked white America's conscience with his writing and particularly with his newspaper column featuring Mr. Jesses B. Semple, an imaginary Harlem street philosopher.

☆ ☆ ☆ If white Americans can learn to fly past Venus, go into orbit and make Telstar, Semple would ponder, then why can't white barbers learn how to cut colored

In 1960. Hughes was awarded the NAACP's Springarn medal, and in 1961 he was elected to the National Institute of Arts and Letters. But his popularity began to wane with the rise of militant blacks who found him too amiable. Hughes' reply to them was: "Humor is a weapon, too, of no mean value against one's enemies."

A Preface To Liberty

Walter Lippmann has provided an occasion for self-examination in the profession that he chose and honored, the press. Editors and commentators, reflecting on his unique role, have thought about their own. That would have pleased Lippmann, for he believed in self-awareness in all institutions. He might indeed be said to have chosen journalism as a profession so that he could devote his life to clarifying society's vision of itself.

ANTHONY LEWIS

This is an extraordinary time for the press, a time of power and a time of doubt. Conflict has always been the law of life in the business, but never before on such a scale.

The new dimension of power was first perceived in Vietnam: The press had a profound effect on the American public's perception of the war and support for it. And then Watergate: The press has been fairly chided with trying to take credit for what the law in good part accomplished; but without the continuous glare of press attention, the law might have flagged and Richard Nixon might still be president.

The new power of the press has aroused much resentment, and not only among the mighty whose crimes or misjudgments have been exposed. Journalists these days experience antagonism, even raw hatred.

Since the press is suspicious of power, it probably should not complain when its own power is questioned. There is in fact a measure of self-doubt in the profession. Some members of it, at least, worry about the charge first laid by Stanley Baldwin against the press lords of the 1920's, that they wanted "power without responsibility, the prerogative of the harlot throughout the ages."

Those on the inside know how possibilities.

In terms of truthfulness, honor or dedication to liberty, the press in the United States compares rather favorably with the standard of politicians in recent times. But it is the function of the press that matters. Its grand function in our scheme of things is to open the process of society to sunlight and therefore to criticism. Other systems have ways to prevent the inbreeding and concentration of power that corrupt human values. Even Britain, the democracy closest in form to ours, allows the press much less scope to perform that role. But in the United States there is no visible alternative.

"There can be no higher law in journalism that to tell the truth and shame the devil." Walter Lippmann said that 50 years ago. There are occasions when publication is unwise; editors are not insensitive to those realities. But recent events make it plain that, in our system, the presumption must be overwhelmingly in favor of publishing.

Officials complain that the members of the press are outsiders, not able to understandthe intricacies of a problem. But that is the point, to have scrutiny and criticism from a detached position, one not committed to particular policies or persons.

But he did not hesitate to separate himself from the great when they went wrong. In the end he was always himself. Those who read him knew that they were reading his views, not any other person's. The New South Myth Rides Again

WASHINGTON — The "New South" is among us again, riding as boldly as the Old South legend of Scarlett O'Hara and with about the same relation to reali-

Ambitious politicians are putting old moonshine in new jugs. Early this month, on the public television's National Town Meeting, Georgia Governor-elect George Busbee and Mississippi Republican Chairman Clarke Reed cited my analyses of Dixie political and demographic trends, so I'm tempted to update my outline. After all, this isn't the first of the "New Souths."

Philosophers of Southern revolutions ought to begin by reading historian Paul Gaston's useful 1970 book entitled "The New South Creed: A Study in Southern Myth-Making." Although Gaston is referring to the 1875-85 period when the term was first in vogue, the analogies are rather good. Then as now, "New South" sloganry does not come out of the piney woods, bayous and fundamentalist chapels of the workaday South, but from elements concerned with Northern values

The distinction is important. Both this current "New South" fad and its 19th Century predecessor came on the heels of epochal upheaval in the legal fabric of black-white relations — first, amancipation of the slaves, and since 1954, the civil rights struggle. In each case, the New South credo has been promulgated after a decade or so by regional elites anxious to express basic adjustment to racial change. Back in 1879, Mississippi Senator L.Q.C. Lamar, a New South stalwart, claimed to know "no Southern man of influence or consideration" who believed in the possibility of disenfranchisement because "the Negro once made a citizen cannot be placed in any other condition.' Current New South spokesmen say race and civil rights, including busing, is a dead or dving issue.

But all too often, the New South credo has been based more on concern for fashion and Northern opinion than on hard assessment of the racial issue. Circa 1875 New Southerners were hung up on industrializing Dixie and mimicking Northern progressivism. Those of 1975

take issue with helter-skelter industrialism; however, in doing so, they seem to satisfy the basic condition of pursuing the values and opinion of the emerging Northern elite. For example, the "New South" theorists of the L.Q.C. Lamar Society seem as tied up with Northern media, foundations and universities as Circa 1875 New South advocates were with Northern industry.

At the same time, there is a real element of validity to the New South argument. The term seems to come into use after Dixie has digested a considerable upheaval, and old-style politicians protagonists of vanished issues - have become irrelevant. Secession was a dead issue in 1875, and legal segregation is a dead issue today.

But while muting these issues may produce "moderate" politics, it does not eliminate the basic cleavages between the races in welfare, culture, income, education and all else these imply. New divisions will come to the fore soon enough: there's always a lo South in any New South (jus lot of similar tension in Bos or San Francisco).

Last but not least, today's theorists are on rough terrai politics. Their biracial coa met considerable success i level, running against coun servatives. But on the na things are different. New So are allied to the New York liberal establishment. Dixie long, wise and honorable reaching back to Andrew Thomas Jefferson - of c presidential politics of the Northeast.

Lincoln, Neb. I suppose at Christmas time more than any other, the written and spoken word universally gives witness to the great event that brought about this celebration. Man's ways have garbled the true meaning but trickles of the truth keep seeping through. Still, Christians know that what is being commemorated in truth is God's becoming flesh for the purpose of redeeming sinful man.

It has been said that if a man had found the cure for cancer. it would surely be wrong for him to keep the secret of that cure to himself. Christians have found in Christ the cure for the worst cancer befallen man, which is sin, and they are not to keep it secret. That is why they are accused of foisting their beliefs on

Many do not believe or accept this cure, even though it has been proven to be true in the lives of many. But it is still offered. Either God did come to earth and did what He said, or He did not. It's up to each person to accept the Gift He sent us or not.

The New South Myth Rides Again

PHILLIPS

WASHINGTON — The "New South" is among us again, riding as boldly as the Old South legend of Scarlett O'Hara and with about the same relation to reali-

Ambitious politicians are putting old moonshine in new jugs. Early this month, on the public television's National Town Meeting, Georgia Governor-elect George Busbee and Mississippi Republican Chairman Clarke Reed cited my analyses of Dixie political and demographic trends, so I'm tempted to update my outline. After all, this isn't the first of the "New Souths.

Philosophers of Southern revolutions ought to begin by reading historian Paul Gaston's useful 1970 book entitled "The New South Creed: A Study in Southern Myth-Making." Although Gaston is referrring to the 1875-85 period when the term was first in vogue, the analogies are rather good. Then as now, "New South" sloganry does not come out of the piney woods, bayous and fundamentalist chapels of the workaday South, but from elements concerned with Northern values

Century predecessor came on the heels of epochal upheaval in the legal fabric of black-white relations — first, amancipation of the slaves, and since 1954, the civil rights struggle. In each case, the New South credo has been promulgated after a decade or so by regional elites anxious to express basic adjustment to racial change. Back in 1879, Mississippi Senator L.Q.C. Lamar, a New South stalwart, claimed to know "no Southern man of influence or consideration" who believed in the possibility of disenfranchisement because "the Negro once made a citizen cannot be placed in any other condition.' Current New South spokesmen say race and civil rights, including busing, is a dead or dving issue.

But all too often, the New South credo has been based more on concern for fashion and Northern opinion than on hard assessment of the racial issue. Circa 1875 New Southerners were hung up on industrializing Dixie and mimicking Northern progressivism. Those of 1975

The distinction is important. Both this take issue with helter-skelter industrialism; however, in doing so, they current "New South" fad and its 19th seem to satisfy the basic condition of pursuing the values and opinion of the emerging Northern elite. For example, the "New South" theorists of the L.Q.C. Lamar Society seem as tied up with Northern media, foundations and universities as Circa 1875 New South advocates were with Northern industry.

At the same time, there is a real element of validity to the New South argument. The term seems to come into use after Dixie has digested a considerable upheaval, and old-style politicians protagonists of vanished issues - have become irrelevant. Secession was a dead issue in 1875, and legal segregation is a dead issue today.

But while muting these issues may produce "moderate" politics, it does not eliminate the basic cleavages between the races in welfare, culture, income, education and all else these imply. New divisions will come to the fore soon enough: there's always a lot of the Old South in any New South (just as there's a lot of similar tension in Boston, Chicago or San Francisco).

Last but not least, today's New South theorists are on rough terrain in national politics. Their biracial coalitions have met considerable success on the state level, running against country-clug conservatives. But on the national level, things are different. New South stalwarts are allied to the New York-Washington liberal establishment. Dixie voters have a long, wise and honorable tradition reaching back to Andrew Jackson and Thomas Jefferson - of opposing the presidential politics of the fashionable Northeast.

In the New South, the Old South or the eternal South, the interests of Manhattan. Cambridge and Scarsdale are invariably hostile to the interests of Montgomery, Chattanooga and Shreveport.

They Had A Dream

In 1925, he came home broke and took a job as busboy in a Washington, D.C., hotel. Then got his big break. As poet Vachal Lindsay dined at the hotel one day, Hughes summoned up his courage and slipped a sheath of his verse on the table beside Lindsay. Lindsay read it, was impressed and helped Hughes break through to a publisher. That verse, "Weary Blues," came out in 1926 as Hughes' first book. A second volume followed in 1927. and Hughes caught a wave of popularity.

Feeling a need for more education, Hughes enrolled at Lincoln University and before his graduation in 1929 had written his first novel, "Not Without Laughter," published in 1930. It won him the Harmond Award for literature.

In 1933, he traveled to the Soviet Union to work on a scenario on Negro life in the United States. In 1936, Hughes, who sympathized with the Loyalist cause, worked as a war correspondent for the Baltimore Afro-American during the Spanish Civil War.

These acts brought his loyalty under question and later led to frequent picketing of his lecture tours in the United States. Finally, in 1953, he was questioned and cleared of alleged early Communist sympathies by the Senate Permanent Committee

Winter Fires Popular, But Many Accidental

By PATTY BEUTLER Star Staff Writer

Winter is a popular time for fires, but unfortunately, not all are blazing warmly in the family hearth.

People are inside buildings now more than in other months, State Fire Marshal Joe Pluta observed, and carelessness runs

Careless disposal of smoking materials and cigarette-caused fires are up around this time of year, Pluta said.

However, the increased number of fires statewide does not exceed the usual wintertime incidents reported

As of Dec. 26, there have been 30 deaths and 292 injuries due to fire this year That compares with 31 deaths and 251 injuries in 1973.

"Think fire prevention, especially in the disposal of smoking materials," Pluta advised. "Fire prevention is selfprotection," he stressed. The fire marshal offered the following preventive measures: -Heating stoves that are fired by petroleum or gas should not be used unless an exhaust chimney extends from the stove to the outside.

-Fireplaces should not be left untended until all embers are completely extinguished.

-Don't smoke after taking medication or sleeping pills when retiring.

–Never smoke in bed. Careless smoking, Pluta said, accounted for seven deaths and 22 injuries last vear.

Mrs. Foster told detectives that her husband came to the house, and the two began arguing over a gun that Foster claimed was his. The argument became more heated, and Foster began shoving Mrs. Foster and her sister around, according to Mrs. Foster.

Mrs. Foster said she pulled the pistol from under the pillow, and shot her husband.

The Douglas County attorney's office said the case is being reviewed, and that a decision on the possibility of charges had not been made.

"WHY DO THE HEATHEN RAGE?"

Psalm 2:1 and Acts 4:25 (Reprint of May, 1969 article)

We quote a letter recently received: "I have read your advertisements in the Jackson Daily News, but admit I am somewhat at a loss to understand. I am past 65, most of which time I have watched our civilization being destroyed by many alien forces - all anti-Christian - anti-White Man. I have not only watched, but have tried to stem the tide, to form an island of resistance, but my efforts have been in vain. I am still trying, however, I am a White, Anglo Saxon Protestant. Please write me about yourself and your work and just what it is you are trying to do. I am sorry that I can't understand, so please help me. Sincerely-." In reply to this letter I closed it by saying "Am glad you wrote me. God bless you, and yours." One reason I am glad he wrote is because his letter expresses the same thoughts and sentiments expressed in many, many letters received over the years. The following with some addition is about our reply.

The greatness of the civilization of England and America was produced by men and women who believed in the absolute Authority of The Bible It appears we are now striving to preserve a Civilization without The Faith that produced it: " IF YE WILL NOT BELIEVE, SURELY YE SHALL NOT BE ESTABLISHED" - Isaiah 7:9. At present we are "going to the devil and destruction" as a result of the "unbelief" of "so-called believers!" The Bible is God's Message to us, to man "OBEY, AND BE BLESSED: DISOBEY, AND EXPERIENCE THE CURSE! The great blessings we enjoy now are the fruits of the obedience of those who have gone before. The curse and confusion upon us is the fruit of our forgetting God and His Message to us in all The Bible.

The writer trusts and prays the following will be helpful to you - it is very helpful to me to consider them and make application of the thoughts suggested in my own life. Note you say you are past 65. Note most of the time you say: "I have WATCHED' OUR CIVILIZATION: 'WATCHED' ALIEN FORCES: 'WATCHED' ANTI-CHRISTIAN. 'WATCHED' ANTI-WHITEMAN!" And surely it is our duty and responsibility to watch these and all the affairs that affect our life

What I am striving to do is to stir up men to "WATCH GOD WORK" as He reveals Himself in "every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of God." - Matthew and Luke 4:4. I am trying to get men and women, especially those who have taken upon themselves vows in a true Evangelical Christian Protestant Church, to get sincere in their faith and performing their vows, or else resign and get out: "WHEN THOU VOWEST A VOW UNTO GOD, DEFER NOT TO PAY IT: FOR HE HATH NO PLEASURE IN FOOLS: PAY THAT WHICH THOU HAST VOWED!" — Ecclesiastes 5:4 Note you do not say anything during your 65 odd years' about having "watched God work" yet He has been at work with you, and in you, ever since that hour your mother gave you birth, at which moment breathed into your life body the "breath of Life" and you became a living soul. In Isaiah 45 22, 23, God says to you, me, all of us: "LOOK UNTO ME, AND BE YE SAVED, ALL THE ENDS OF THE EARTH FOR I AM GOD. AND THERE IS NONE ELSE, AND I HAVE SWORN BY MYSELF, THE WORD IS GONE OUT OF MY MOUTH IN RIGHTEOUSNESS, AND SHALL NOT RETURN, THAT UNTO ME EVERY KNEE SHALL BOW, EVERY TONGUE SHALL SWEAR." May I ask have you been looking where you ought to look during the 65 years He has given you? All of us are more or less guilty! Let us repent and look another way! "MOST MEN WILL PROCLAIM EVERY ONE HIS OWN GOODNESS: BUT A FAITHFUL MAN WHO CAN FIND?" Proverbs 20:6.

Suppose God should give you another 10 years. How do you want to spend them? Face it, and tell God all about it! Have a dialogue with the Almighty about the matter! If you are not willing to spend them as He might want you to do, then ask Him to forgive you! Ask Him to change you! Hear The Word of The Lord: "NOT EVERY ONE THAT SAITH UNTO ME, LORD, LORD, SHALL ENTER THE KINGDOM OF HEAVEN: BUT HE THAT DOETH THE WILL OF MY FATHER WHICH IS IN HEAVEN, MANY WILL SAY UNTO ME IN THAT DAY. LORD, LORD, HAVE WE NOT PROPHESIED IN THY NAME? AND IN THY NAME HAVE CAST OUT DEVILS? AND IN THY NAME DONE MANY WONDERFUL WORKS? AND THEN WILL I PROFESS UNTO THEM, I NEVER KNEW YOU, DEPART FROM ME, YE THAT WORK

INIQUITY.' " MAT. 7:21-23. "COME NOW AND LET US REASON TOGETHER SAITH THE LORD: THOUGH YOUR SINS BE AS SCARLET, THEY SHALL BE AS WHITE AS SNOW: THOUGH THEY BE RED LIKE CRIMSON, THEY SHALL BE AS WOOL, IF YE BE WILLING AND OBEDIENT, YE SHALL EAT, THE GOOD OF THE LAND: BUT IF YE REFUSE AND REBEL, YE SHALL BE DEVOURED WITH THE SWORD, FOR THE MOUTH OF THE LORD HATH SPOKEN IT. HEATHEN RAGE?" Psalm 2:1 and Acts 4:25

(Reprint of May, 1969 article)

"WHY DO THE

We quote a letter recently received: "I have read your advertisements in the Jackson Daily News, but admit I am somewhat at a loss to understand. I am past 65, most of which time I have watched our civilization being destroyed by many alien forces - all anti-Christian - anti-White Man. I have not only watched, but have tried to stem the tide, to form an island of resistance, but my efforts have been in vain. I am still trying, however, I am a White, Anglo Saxon Protestant. Please write me about yourself and your work and just what it is you are trying to do. I am sorry that I can't understand, so please help me. Sincerely-." In reply to this letter I closed it by saying "Am glad you wrote me. God bless you, and yours." One reason I am glad he wrote is because his letter expresses the same thoughts and sentiments expressed in many, many letters received over the years. The following with some addition is about our reply.

The greatness of the civilization of England and America was produced by men and women who believed in the absolute Authority of The Bible. It appears we are now striving to preserve a Civilization without The Faith that produced it: " IF YE WILL NOT BELIEVE, SURELY YE SHALL NOT BE ESTABLISHED" — Isaiah 7:9. At present we are "going to the devil and destruction" as a result of the "unbelief" of "so-called believers!" The Bible is God's Message to us, to man: "OBEY, AND BE BLESSED: DISOBEY, AND EXPERIENCE THE CURSE! The great blessings we enjoy now are the fruits of the obedience of those who have gone before. The curse and confusion upon us is the fruit of our forgetting God and His Message to us in all The Bible.

The writer trusts and prays the following will be helpful to you - it is very helpful to me to consider them and make application of the thoughts suggested in my own life. Note you say you are past 65. Note most of the time you say: "I have WATCHED' OUR CIVILIZATION: 'WATCHED' ALIEN FORCES: 'WATCHED' ANTI-CHRISTIAN: 'WATCHED' ANTI-WHITEMAN!" And surely it is our duty and responsibility to watch these and all the affairs that affect our life.

What I am striving to do is to stir up men to "WATCH GOD WORK" as He reveals Himself in "every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of God." -Matthew and Luke 4:4. I am trying to get men and women, especially those who have taken upon themselves vows in a true Evangelical Christian Protestant Church, to get sincere in their faith and performing their vows, or else resign and get out: "WHEN THOU VOWEST A VOW UNTO GOD, DEFER NOT TO PAY IT: FOR HE HATH NO PLEASURE IN FOOLS: PAY THAT WHICH THOU HAST VOWED!" — Ecclesiastes 5:4. Note you do not say anything during your 65 odd years' about having "watched God work" yet He has been at work with you, and in you, ever since that hour your mother gave you birth, at which moment breathed into your life body the "breath of Life" and you became a living soul. In Isaiah 45:22, 23, God says to you, me, all of us: "LOOK UNTO ME, AND BE YE SAVED, ALL THE ENDS OF THE EARTH: FOR I AM GOD. AND THERE IS NONE ELSE, AND I HAVE SWORN BY MYSELF, THE WORD IS GONE OUT OF MY MOUTH IN RIGHTEOUSNESS, AND SHALL NOT RETURN, THAT UNTO ME EVERY KNEE SHALL BOW, EVERY TONGUE SHALL SWEAR." May I ask have you been looking where you ought to look during the 65 years He has given you? All of us are more or less guilty! Let us repent and look another way! "MOST MEN WILL PROCLAIM EVERY ONE HIS OWN GOODNESS. BUT A FAITHFUL MAN WHO CAN FIND?" Proverbs 20:6. Suppose God should give you another 10 years. How do you want to spend them? Face it, and tell God all about it! Have a dialogue with the Almighty about the matter! If you are not willing to spend them as He might want you to do, then ask Him to forgive you! Ask Him to change you! Hear The Word of The Lord: "NOT EVERY ONE THAT SAITH UNTO ME, LORD. LORD, SHALL ENTER THE KINGDOM OF HEAVEN: BUT HE THAT DOETH THE WILL OF MY FATHER WHICH IS IN HEAVEN, MANY WILL SAY UNTO ME IN THAT DAY LORD, LORD, HAVE WE NOT PROPHESIED IN THY NAME? AND IN THY NAME HAVE CAST OUT DEVILS? AND IN THY NAME DONE MANY WONDERFUL WORKS? AND THEN WILL I PROFESS UNTO THEM, 'I NEVER KNEW YOU, DEPART FROM ME, YE THAT WORK INIQUITY.' " MAT. 7:21-23.

COME NOW AND LET US REASON TOGETHER SAITH THE LORD: THOUGH YOUR SINS BE AS SCARLET THEY SHALL BE AS WHITE AS SNOW: THOUGH THEY BE RED LIKE CRIMSON, THEY SHALL BE AS WOOL. IF YE BE WILLING AND OBEDIENT, YE SHALL EAT THE GOOD OF THE LAND: BUT IF YE REFUSE AND REBEL, YE SHALL BE DEVOURED WITH THE SWORD, FOR THE MOUTH OF THE LORD HATH SPOKEN IT.' " Isaiah 1:18-20.

. "I found any deaf person would have difficulty communicating with the outside world," a young man wrote in his project diary. "It would be tough. It is tough. Just try a day wearing earphones. It isn't easy.'

The teenager who wrote those words was one of several ninth grade students at Pound Junior High School who did more than just contemplate what it might be like as a physically and/or mentally handicapped person.

While participating in an English project, individual students adopted and coped with one of the various handicaps for an entire day.

Renee Redding, whose arms were encased in canvas and leather splints, experienced the stiff-jointed difficulties often characteristic of mentally retarded persons.

"I found out that you can't brush your hair or put chap stick on your lips," she wrote. "And it is hard to get your purse on your shoulder."

'Didn't Realize'

"Now I know how it feels when you're not able to function very well with your hands," said Lisa Norman, who wore boxing gloves throughout the day. "I didn't realize how hard it would be without the full use of your hands.

"I can't write well at all . . . it's hard to eat and I'm not able to pick up little things."

"At home it got real boring," wrote one young man who sported earphones for 11 hours. "I couldn't talk on the phone, watch TV or listen to the radio.

It's 8:05 p.m. and I've taken them (the earphones) off and it is really different. I can hear every noise, it seems."

"You sure can learn a lot about other handicaps, feelings and other things too just by listening," wrote a young woman who feigned muteness. "I have learned a great many things from this experience.

'Voice Great Gift'

"I can understand that the voice is a great gift. Some people waste it by not talking enough and some use it too much."

"Everybody is calling me 'crip' or 'poor thing," wrote Tami Green, who hobbled around on crutches because her knees were wrapped with magazines and bandages. "But I don't think it is funny.

"People who aren't handicapped really don't realize how much we depend on our legs and arms, sight, hearing and hands.'

However, you should know from the bidding that the year on food or other objects, normal method of playing the spades is sure to fail. West could hardly open the bidding without procedure for saving choking the queen of spades, and you should therefore credit him with it. This view is reenforced when you consider that East would not pass partner's diamond bid if he had the ace of hearts and queen of spades as well.

You should therefore take the South backward finesse, by leading the jack of spades, not the eight, planning to finesse if West follows low.

After reading that 2,600 Americans choked to death last Dr. Henry Heimlich, a Cincinnati surgeon, worked out a victims, which I think bears remembering. It goes like this:

Standing behind the victim, place your arms around his waist, slightly above the waist. Allow the victim's head and torso to bend forward. Then tightly grasp your own wrist with your other hand and press into the victim's abdomen forcefully and rapidly, repeating several times. This will push up the diaphram, compress the air into the lungs and expel the object that is blocking the air passage. Until now, choking victims have often died unless a doctor was handy to cut an air passage into the throat, or use a special instrument to remove the block.

Reports received by Dr. Heimlich indicate that 40 lives have been saved with this procedure since it was published in a medical journal.

Standing behind the victim, place your arms around his waist, slightly above the waist. Allow the victim's head and torso to bend forward. Then tightly grasp your own wrist with your other hand and press into the victim's abdomen forcefully and rapidly, repeating several times. This will push up the diaphram, compress the air into the lungs and expel the object that is

Japan Is Automating Supermarkets

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The by the Japanese government in will follow in November with a another in Singapore. Total sales American consumer will be interested in a new way of supermarket shopping that will come to Japan in 1975. Michael Healey is bureau chief of the McGraw-Hill News Bureau in Tokyo.)

By MICHAEL HEALEY Tokyo — in what could well lead to a revolution in modern retail concepts, Japan next year will open two automated supermarkets which utilize computers and other electronic devices to fulfill many of the traditional roles of store personnel.

At these outlets, customers armed with punch cards will wheel their baskets down aisles lined with vending display cases, punching buttons to select the goods which they wish to purchase. Computers will keep track of each customer's selections, flashing total bills in micro-seconds when they are called for at the check out stand.

The automated stores are will open an outlet carrying 3,000 being designed by Mitsubishi Heavy Industries, Ltd. under a program initiated five years ago Department Store, Co., Ltd.,

an effort to help medium sized retail outlets reduce growing overhead costs. Initially, the stores will be more expensive to operate than their conventional counterparts. However, those involved in the program anticipate that when the system is adopted at a large number of stores, costs and other problems presented by sweeping automation will be reduced appreciably.

Many Questions

Many questions surround introduction of the outlets, the biggest being the reaction of the customer to the system. In a nation where shoppers have come to take personal attention for granted, will housewives be content to select goods which they cannot first inspect? Will they do business in a store that displays its goods in a vending machine?

Two supermarket chains are betting that they will. OK Corp. food and soft good items in Tokyo next April, and Yaohan

Atami, 50 miles south of the capital, which will carry some 2,- 000 different product lines. Masaaki Kanai, secretary to the president at Yaohan, points to increasing overhead costs for personnel in Japan as a major reason behind the decision to test the automated store.

"Our president is very ambitious," he says, "and looks at this as a way of making progress. The retail industry in Japan is very competitive and fastgrowing, but there hasn't been much in the way of remarkable change in the industry's sales methods in a long time."

Labor Costs Faced with labor costs that this year increased by 32%, Yaohan will operate the automated store with 7 or 8 people - roughly half the staff required in a conventional store carrying the same number of items. The outlet will be the 12th in Japan for Yaohan, which also operates two stores in Brazil and store in the resort town of for the chain are about $90 million annually. Retail space in the stores will consist of glass-faced vendors which display the various products, much as they would be displayed on conventional supermarket shelves. Prices for each item will be set by hand, on the vendor shelves. Customers will be handed a punch card upon entering the store, and will insert this card in the individual vendors when they wish to select products displayed in that particular machine.

Yachan plans to adopt automated systems in all future supermarkets if the Atami outlet proves the success that the chain is banking on.

As one company official says, "medium sized retail outlets won't be able to survive unless they can cut down on wages. That's why we think the system will be a success."

Japan Is Automating Supermarkets

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The by the Japanese government in American consumer will be interested in a new way of supermarket shopping that will come to Japan in 1975. Michael Healey is bureau chief of the McGraw-Hill News Bureau in Tokyo.)

By MICHAEL HEALEY Tokyo - In what could well lead to a revolution in modern retail concepts, Japan next year will open two automated supermarkets which utilize computers and other electronic devices to fulfill many of the traditional roles of store personnel.

At these outlets, customers armed with punch cards will wheel their baskets down aisles lined with vending display cases, punching buttons to select the goods which they wish to purchase. Computers will keep track of each customer's selections, flashing total bills in micro-seconds when they are called for at the check out stand.

The automated stores are being designed by Mitsubishi Heavy Industries, Ltd. under a program initiated five years ago

an effort to help medium sized retail outlets reduce growing overhead costs. Initially, the stores will be more expensive to operate than their conventional counterparts. However, those involved in the program anticipate that when the system is adopted at a large number of stores, costs and other problems presented by sweeping automation will be reduced appreciably.

Many Questions

Many questions surround introduction of the outlets, the biggest being the reaction of the customer to the system. In a nation where shoppers have come to take personal attention for granted, will housewives be content to select goods which they cannot first inspect? Will they do business in a store that displays its goods in a vending machine?

Two supermarket chains are betting that they will. OK Corp. will open an outlet carrying 3,000 food and soft good items in Tokyo next April, and Yaohan Department Store, Co., Ltd., will follow in November with a another in Singapore. Total sales store in the resort town of Atami, 50 miles south of the capital, which will carry some 2,- 000 different product lines. Masaaki Kanai, secretary to the president at Yaohan, points to increasing overhead costs for personnel in Japan as a major reason behind the decision to test the automated store.

"Our president is very ambitious," he says, "and looks at this as a way of making progress. The retail industry in Japan is very competitive and fastgrowing, but there hasn't been much in the way of remarkable change in the industry's sales methods in a long time."

Labor Costs

Faced with labor costs that this year increased by 32%, Yaohan will operate the automated store with 7 or 8 people - roughly half the staff required in a conventional store carrying the same number of items. The outlet will be the 12th in Japan for Yaohan, which also operates two stores in Brazil and for the chain are about $90 million annually.

Retail space in the stores will consist of glass-faced vendors which display the various products, much as they would be displayed on conventional supermarket shelves. Prices for each item will be set by hand, on the vendor shelves. Customers will be handed a punch card upon entering the store, and will insert this card in the individual vendors when they wish to select products displayed in that particular machine.

Yaohan plans to adopt automated systems in all future supermarkets if the Atami outlet proves the success that the chain is banking on.

Life Begins At Forty:

Government Publications Helpful

By ROBERT PETERSON

As we approach the turn of the year amid continuing uncertainty as to how soon inflation will abate and how rapidly we will work our way out of the recession, it seems like a good time to point out some of the many publications available at little or no cost from the U.S. Public Documents Distribution Center. Pueblo, Colo. 81009.

This list includes booklets about finance, budgets, and in-

"Understanding Inflation" -033B. Free. 24 pages describing what inflation is, how it affects various segments of our economy, and discussing its causes and controls.

"Your Social Security" -134B. 35 cents. 26 pages, which tell who are eligible, what the payments are, how to apply for Social Security and Medicare

"Budgeting for the Family" -029B. 25 cents. 16 pages giving steps in developing a budget along with charts for estimating income, recording expenses, and planning family spending.

Budgeting for the Retired Couple" - 030B. 25 cents. 14 281 Park Ave., South, New York

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Accent is on how to fulfill wishes — and obligations. Key now is concentration, attention to details, ability to sweep aside obstacles without alienating those who disagree. Aquarius, Leo, Scorpio persons are in picture.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): You deal with professional superior. You exchange thoughts, ideas. You realize that you don't know it all — but you know enough to elevate self-esteem. Gemini, Sagittarius and Virgo could figure prominently. Say what you mean — but do it in "Creative manner."

ability to delve beneath surface indications is tested. Mate, partner has money questions. Discern what is actual, what is wishful thinking. Stick to quality. Be selective. Compare prices. Find out who is pulling strings.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19)

Spotlight is on partnership, contract, marriage. You are given additional responsibility. Relationship intensifies. Nothing now is halfway — it is all or nothing. Older individual wants some answers — and you will be able to provide them.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Finish

what you start — stick to basics. Take nothing for granted. Keep diet, health resolutions. Accent moderation. Get together with one who shares your interests. You will find a more effective way to recover of the start of the s way to produce, distribute.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): Accent is on creativity, change, special relationships. Dynamic action indicated. A closer tie shown with member of opposite sex, with children. Your own style is best for you — dance to your own tune. You will comprehend!

(Learn "The Truth About Astrology." Send birthdate and 75 cents to Omarr Booklet. The Lincoln Star, P.O. Box 1111, Los Angeles, Calif. 90053. You'll open door to fascinating study and self-revelation!)

pages which include items to be N.Y. 10010. This booklet is free taken into consideration in planning a retirement budget as well as comparisons of costs of living in various cities.

'Mail Order Insurance" -072B. 25 cents. Eight pages. This booklet will help you watch for common insurance frauds and tell you how to report them to the Federal Trade Commission, and it also tells you how to protect yourself.

"Insurance for Your Health, Car, and Life" - 256B. Free. Six

"Insurance for Renters and Homeowners" - 255B. Free. Four pages.

A "Family Food Buying Guide" is available at Superintendent of Documents, U.S. Printing Office, Washington, D.C. 20402. It costs 70 cents, and should be of great assistance in helping us get the most out of our food budget

Another valuable booklet that has come to my attention is: "Dollars and Sense After Sixty" — a publication of the Division of Aging, Federation of Protestant Welfare Agencies, to residents of New York, New Jersey, and Connecticut. Residents of other states must pay 50 cents for it.

AIM is the acronym for Action for Independent Maturity, a gung-ho organization for persons over 50. Headquarters are at 1225 Connecticut Avenue, N.W. Washington, D.C. 20036. They have published a Leisure Guide to Independent Living. Single copies are free, but if you contemplate purchasing enough for some organization you belong to, you should direct a query to AIM headquarters regarding quantity

One reader has written in recommending a book with a fascinating title: "You've Got to Find Happiness — It Won't Find You," written in 1971 by Patricia B. Edwards. I have not read it myself, but I suggest you check your local library and see if they have it so you can give it a try. Please write to "Life Begins at Forty," in care of this newspaper, and let me know what you thought of this book.

Why celebrate the end of one year and the beginning of the next? It seems a strange custom, yet there is a good

Few, if any of us, have come even close to perfection in the year just ending. So we look ahead toward 365 brandnew days, blank pages in the next chapter of our lives.

What will we do with them? On the eve of a New Year, most of us certainly have the desire to try harder, to be

But even while we are saying, "Off with the old and on with the new," we are also clinging to the good in the days gone by. As we renew old friendships, we thank God for those friends, for the Faith he has given us, for life itself. And, in the midst of revelry, we start the year the best way of all: We go to church.

Aid Programs Available To Unemployed Workers Rally Ends By JANE BRYANT QUINN New York — If you haven't haven't know how long In Market You don't know how long In Market

By JANE BRYANT QUINN New York — If you haven't been unemployed before, it's hard to imagine the range of problems that can suddenly land on your head. Food and shelter, of course; but you may also have to deal with repossessions, foodstamp bureaucrats, anxious children and any number of

There's no need to struggle with all these things yourself, says Andrew Brown, director of community services for the United Auto Workers. There are many good and useful social services available. Some families won't use them, no matter how great the need, because they smack of "charity." But, says Brown, you've paid for these programs with your tax dollars - and so should feel free to use them when you have to. Here's the UAW's checklist of aid programs to look for:

1—Unemployment compensation. If you are eligible, by all means apply for it. Your former employer has been making regular payments into the fund to cover any workers he might have to lay off, so you should accept this aid as something that's been prearranged for you. There's no need to feel ashamed - the recession is not your fault.

Nor will filing for unemployment benefits adversely affect your future. For information on eligibility, call your state's unemployment insurance division (it's in the phone book, under the state listings).

2-Employment possibilities. By all means visit your state employment service, as well as any private employment bureaus in your area. But avoid those agencies that offer, for a big fee, to determine what work you're best at. It's highly questionable. whether they'll be able to find you a job, and you'll have blown some of the money you need to live on. Pay a fee only if you get

3-Food, shelter, clothing, heat and light. Each city or county has various programs for meeting the basic needs of its people. Some are more generous than others, depending on the attitude of the voters toward welfare. Newly unemployed people find these services particularly difficult to accept, since they have usually associated them with the irredeemably indigent. But welfare is for anyone who needs it, whatever the reason. When you were employed you paid for these programs with your tax money - now it's time for you to claim some of that money back. To find out what's available and whether you qualify, call the department of social services or department of public welfare. You'll find it in the phone book under either the city or county

4—Food stamps. This federal program helps families with low incomes buy more food than they would otherwise be able to afford. Sometimes people put off getting stamps because they find it embarrassing to present them at the grocery store instead of cash. But again, this program isn't charity - you've paid for it in taxes and are entitled to its

You don't know how long you'll be unemployed, so if you're eligible it's best to apply for food stamps right away -before you use up your precious savings on groceries you might otherwise have gotten at a dis-

5-Medical care. When you're out of work and no longer have group medical insurance, a sudden illness can be a real blow. Your family doctor should be willing to let you defer payment, but hospitals can be tougher. Ask a local social service agency about free clinics and other kinds of emergency medical aid. Chances are you've already contributed money to some of these organizations through such fund-raising groups as the United Way.

6-Family problems. When unemployment burdens the family, any difficulties you're having with your children (or with each other) may be much magnified. Some cities offer family counseling as part of the welfare program. Elsewhere, help may be available through such agencies as the Family Service Society, Catholic Family Service and Jewish Social Service Bureau.

7-Legal problems. If you're being threatened with repossession of a car, or eviction from an apartment, find a lawyer immediately. There may be a free legal aid bureau in your area. If not, a social service agency can advise you on where to find inexpensive, or free, legal counsel. You (or a lawyer) should also get in touch with all your other creditors to explain your present financial situation and try to defer payments on your bills.

New York (AP) - Government reports indicating a continued gloomy economic outlook snuffed out a two-session rally in the stock market Friday and pushed prices slightly lower in quiet trading.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials slipped 2.58 to 602.16, winding up the holiday-shortened week with a slim net gain of 3.68 points.

Losers outnumbered gainers 701 to 582 among the 1,814 issues traded on the New York Stock Exchange.

The NYSE's composite common-stock index lost .15 to Big Board volume increased slightly to 13.06 million shares. The economic news of the day was uniformly cheerless. At the opening, the government reported that its index of leading economic indicators dropped 1.5 per cent in November, posting its fourth consecutive monthly decline.

The message of that news, in effect, was that no signs had yet shown up of any recovery from the recession.

The Commerce Department also reported that the nation's trade balance swung back into deficit in November, with imports outpacing exports by $133 million. High prices of imported sugar drew a large share of the

Late in the day, the Federal Reserve reported a slight decline in the money supply for the latest reporting week. That did nothing for hopes that the central bank was encouraging an increase in the amount of cash and checking account deposits in order to counteract the economic slump.

And New York's First National City Bank again held its prime lending rate at 10 per cent for the coming week, underscoring the fact that the downtrend in interest rates this past autumn had stalled at least

Processing Of Claims In Disaster Goes Slow only when it is determined the The processing of claims for disaster payments for Nebraska farmers is proceeding slowly but surely, according to an announcement issued by the State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS)

To date the agency has received 47,480 applications but nas approved only 9,257 and denied 4,259 of the claims. Some 5,188 claims have been processed to the point of mailing checks to the farmers involved. A total of $9,272,000 has been paid out at an average of $1,787 per claim approved. The payments are designed to aid farmers in recovering losses from drought and other croprelated disasters so they have enough cash to buy seed and other supplies to stay in farming.

Officials blame the exhaustive measurements required to determine the exact extent of the harvest for the delay in processing the claims. The payment of the claim is possible

been unemployed before, it's hard to imagine the range of problems that can suddenly land on your head. Food and shelter, of course; but you may also have to deal with repossessions, foodstamp bureaucrats, anxious children and any number of

There's no need to struggle with all these things yourself, says Andrew Brown, director of community services for the United Auto Workers. There are many good and useful social services available. Some families won't use them, no matter how great the need, because they smack of "charity." But, says Brown, you've paid for these programs with your tax dollars - and so should feel free to use them when you have to. Here's the UAW's checklist of aid

1—Unemployment compensation. If you are eligible, by all means apply for it. Your former employer has been making regular payments into the fund to cover any workers he might have to lay off, so you should accept this aid as something that's been prearranged for you. There's no need to feel ashamed the recession is not your fault. Nor will filing for unemployment benefits adversely affect your future. For information on programs to look for:

5-Medical care. When you're out of work and no longer have group medical insurance, a sudden illness can be a real blow. Your family doctor should be willing to let you defer payment, but hospitals can be tougher. Ask a local social service agency about free clinics and other kinds of emergency medical aid. Chances are you've already contributed money to some of these organizations through such fund-raising groups as the United Way. 6-Family problems. When unemployment burdens the family, any difficulties you're having with your children (or with each other) may be much magnified. Some cities offer family counseling as part of the welfare program. Elsewhere, help may be available through such agencies as the Family Service Society, Catholic Family Service and Jewish Social Service Bureau.

7-Legal problems. If you're being threatened with repossession of a car, or eviction from an apartment, find a lawyer immediately. There may be a free legal aid bureau in your area. If not, a social service agency can advise you on where to find inexpensive, or free, legal counsel. You (or a lawyer) should also get in touch with all your other creditors to explain your present financial situation and try to defer payments on your bills.

Omaha, Neb. (AP) - Hog sellers on the Omaha livestock ble yearly high Friday, but the pork bubble burst.

The 1974 high of $44.00 was being pushed Thursday when the butcher top reached $43.50, but Friday was a different story. Even the closely well-sorted butchers opened on the downside, 50 to 75 cents lower. Better 200 to 260 pounders took a pounding, going $1.75 to as much as

The small butcher offerings over 270-pounds trended $1.25

Cattle marketings dropped to just 300 head in the absence of a Friday feeder auction, and there were not enough slaughter steers and heifers for an adequate price test. Scattered small lots were called mostly steady. Cows earned a steady call.

Sheep receipts totaled just 50 head, and that was not enough 8½+ ¼ for a market test.

timetable for development of a state veterans home here was released Friday, indicating the first veterans could move in by July, 1975.

Jack Cleavenger, acting director of the State Institutions Department, told a news conference the home would open with a pilot program of 12 residential units. The entire 118 units of the home intended for veterans who do not require constant medical attention should be completed by December, 1975, he said.

Everett Philips, state veterans facilities director, said the Vanguard complex on the same property was being considered for conversion into a 200-bed nursing care portion of the

His plan involves literally rearranging the three-story buildings constructed of pre-cast concrete slabs into one-story buildings. Philips estimated the cost of reconstruction at $1.5 million, which he said would be about one-fourth the cost of constructing similar facilities

He said the opening of the Vanguard complex was still "several years away."

Funds for the Skinner Dorto purchase the property.

Cleavenger said he expected the Veterans Administration to provide 65% of the financing of both projects.

Philips said the greatest need for veterans housing was still concentrated in eastern Nebraska.

Scottsbluff would probably never have been undertaken had not the old college buildings been available," he said.

Everett Philips, state veterans facilities director, said the Vanguard complex on the same property was being considered for conversion into a 200-bed nursing care portion of the veterans home.

His plan involves literally rearranging the three-story buildings constructed of pre-cast concrete slabs into one-story buildings. Philips estimated the cost of reconstruction at $1.5 million, which he said would be about one-fourth the cost of constructing similar facilities elsewhere.

He said the opening of the Vanguard complex was still 'several years away.

Funds for the Skinner Dormitory project have already been appropriated by the Unicameral. Of the $650,000 appropriation, $320,000 was spent to purchase the property.

Cleavenger said he expected the Veterans Administration to provide 65% of the financing of both projects.

Kansas City, Mo. - Sometimes the best Kansas basketball players are watching the action from the bench. It's not that they are injured, it's just that the Javhawks are so

That analysis comes from Nebraska assistant basketball coach Lonnie Porter who scouted the Jayhawks during their 88-68 win Thursday night over Oklahoma State in an opening round Big Eight Tournament test at Kemper Arena.

He's concerned about coach Ted Owens pre-tournament favorites for a reason --Nebraska meets Kansas in the tournament's 7 p.m. semifinal test Saturday at Kemper Arena.

"Their lineup is questionable . . . They have so many players on the bench that have experience from last year," he said. "The thing about Kansas is that they have so much talent.

"The three guys on the bench are all capable of hitting 20 points and they all have been starters at one time so you really can't concentrate all your efforts on any one player."

The trio that has been relegated to benchduty (at least at the start of games) includes 6-10 senior center Rick Suttle, who has averaged 13.6 points-per-game over the past two years; 6-4 senior forward Tommie Smith, a 7.2 points-pergame man; and 6-6 senior forward Roger Morningstar, who averaged 12.3 points-per-game

With talent like that it might at first seem surprising that KU is only 5-4 after nine games. Surprising until you consider that the Jayhawks

- "Secondly, we can't let them pressure us," he added. "We'll have to bring the ball down the court without hurrying our offense. We just have to settle down and play our own game."

That's what the Huskers did best in downing Oklahoma, 75-64, on Thursday night.

They forced the more physical Sooners into 23 turnovers and took their time in working the plays they do best.

TOURNEY NOTES — Nebraska and Kansas have met five of the last six years here in the Big Eight Tournament with NU winning, 78-73, in 1969 and 74-72, in 1972. Kansas defeated the Huskers for the 1970 tourney championship, 72-52, and beat NU, 75-66, here last year in the consolation finals ... Chiefs' Hunt Fires Stram

Stram was fired Friday as head place the dapper Stram, a shortcoach of the Kansas City Chiefs. He has seven years remaining on his million-dollar contract.

The announcement was made at a hastily called midafternoon news conference by Lamar Hunt, owner of the National Football League club.

Stram, only coach the Chiefs have ever had, was not present at the news conference nor was he in his office at Arrowhead Stadium. Hunt said he had notified Stram of his decision Friday morning after "conversations with Hank had been going on for a year or more."

Stram signed a 10-year contract three years ago. The contract was estimated to pay $100,-000 a year. Hunt said subsequent payments on the contract would be made to Stram "as they become due."

"I am determined that the Chiefs are going to be a source of pride," Hunt said. "I'm confident this announcement today will begin a new era in that re-

Hunt said the search for Stram's successor would begin immediately and that Jack Steadman, the club's general manager, would "seek out and employ the best qualified coach available."

Steadman said he has "not talked to anyone at this time. We will begin an immediate and intensive search "

Rumors were circulating that the Chiefs' next coach would be Don Shula, the highly successful boss of the Miami Dolphins. However, when Hunt and Steadman were asked about the rumor, they both laughed.

Under Stram, the Chiefs scaled the heights of pro football, defeating the Minnesota Vikings 23-7 in the 1970 Super Bowl. After that victory, Stram labeled his rather complicated, multiple offense as "the offense of the 70s." However, after the Chiefs carved a 10-3-1 record in 1971, the team gradually started downhill and had its worst season ever in 1974 when it won only five of 14 regular season games. The public began to ridicule Stram the last couple of years. A month ago when Muhammad Ali staged exhibition boxing matches in Kansas City, Stram was introduced and was greeted with a barrage of boos.

Hunt said public reaction was Super Bowl.

"A pro football team is such a public entity," Hunt explained. 'The public is certainly a fac-

Hunt said there was no pressure from any of the players and described his action as "a terribly emotional moment for me. I've never had this kind of thing before. Hank grew up with the organization. He is a close friend of mine personally."

Hunt did not use the word "fired" in his announcement. He said he had asked Stram, 50, to step down and added, "We feel the time has come to revitalize our organization and give it a fresh approach. Pro football is demanding and changeable and sometimes it is necessary to take a new outlook."

Hunt indicated be wanted a relatively young coach but would not say how young. He said whether a new coach would be given a multiyear contract would depend on the individual.

Hunt said the Chiefs would need time "to regain championship stature but it can and will be accomplished. We are confident that a new emphasis on . scouting will reduce this time to a minimum."

Hunt said the new coach will not be involved in the negotiation and signing of players, a task he has now delegated to Steadman.

"Because of the complexity of coaching," Hunt said, "player signing and the coaching end should be separated. The important thing is the produce on the field."

Asked where Stram went wrong. Hunt said: "I can't put it in those terms ... the circumstances and the chemistry of this franchise dictated a change.'

Hunt said Stram's coaches are under contract until March 31, "but they can make arrangements to seek other employment if they desire."

The Chiefs, a charter member of the old American Football League, have just completed their 15th season. Stram's record was 129-79-10.

Stram, a native of Gary, Inc., led his teams to AFL championships in 1962, 1966 and 1969. His 1966 team lost to the Green Bay Packers 35-10 in the first

Huskers Finish Drills With Pads Until Game

New Orleans, La. - There'll be no more contact work for Nebraska's Comhuskers until they take the field in Tulane Stadium for Tuesday night's Sugar Bowl football game against the Florida Gators.

Florida to work in the afternoon. The Gators arrived just after dark Friday following a double practice in Gainesville earlier in the day. The Huskers plan to work under the lights Sunday and Monday evenings in an attempt to get used to the atmosphere of a night game, their first one of the 1974 season. Kickoff on Tuesday will be 7 p.m., Lincoln time. "I don't think playing at night will be a factor once we've worked a couple of times under the lights," Osborne said. "The only thing that concerns me is the long wait the day of the game, but we'll probably let the players sleep late that morning." The 98-man Nebraska squad has been given some free time to enjoy the many sights and events in New Orleans, but Osborne has had bed checks each night at 1 a.m. "That may seem late

11 p.m. Sunday and Monday as game time approaches, but the players probably will get two hours of free time after the Sunday practice. The physical condition of the squad continued to improve and there were no reports of additional players suffering from a 48-hour influenza virus. Nebraska, which will be going after its sixth consecutive bowl game victory, is prepared for both a wet and dry field in Tulane Stadium, which has a "Poly Turf" artificial surface that feels softer than either the NU Memorial Stadium's AstroTurf or any Tartan covered field. Osborne thinks it's because of the pad under the carpet rather than the turf itself.

Each Husker player has two pairs of shoes with him - one for a dry field and the other for Osborne indicated John O'Leary, who regained his No. 1 I-back job for the Oklahoma game after being slowed most of the year by a broken jaw, will start against the Gators. He said, however, freshman Monte Anthony will alternate with him by series. The Sugar Bowl game still isn't sold out and Cliff Kern, president of the sponsoring Mid-

Winter Sports Association, says it probably won't be unless there is a last minute rush by fans to buy tickets. The game has been blacked out for television for the first time in ten years because of the slow ticket sale. Kern estimated "about 5,000"

remain available, but others say the figure is close to 10,000. The stadium has 80,985 permanent seats, but a record crowd of 85,161 squeezed into the place a year ago for Notre Dame's thrilling 24-23 victory over Alabama.

Sanger was released by the Oilers following an exhibition game with the Baltimore Colts this past summer. "They had trimmed their roster of punters from 15 down to two. Then following the game I was released without explanation," Sanger

"The offer with the Rams is better than the one I had with the Oilers. I guess they can use another kicker and/or punter, and I couldn't think of a better club to be with," he added. "The location is good and the weather is good. I'd be happy to be in Los Angeles as long as I can."

Sanger, a 6-0, 214-pounder, who set the NCAA record for points after touchdowns with a career total of 157 successful kicks is the second highest scorer of all-time at Nebraska with 220 points, behind Johnny Rodgers' 300.

The Ovid, Colorado native, who returned to the NU campus this year after his tryout with the Oilers, has been helping the Huskers' kicking as a graduate assistant. "It helped me a lot. I got a lot of practice, both before and

An unexpected snowfall in El Paso, a farewell appearance in Atlanta, a pair of cocky running backs in Tempe and daredevil Evel Knievel riding around in a golf cart are among the ingredients Saturday as college football bowls its way toward the end of its four-month campaign.

By the time New Year's night has come and gone, no fewer than 18 teams will have made their bids for immortality and hefty alumni contributions, and all of them will have done so live and in color in living rooms across the nation.

Saturday it'll be Mississippi State against North Carolina in the Sun Bowl in El Paso, Tex.; Vanderbilt against Texas Tech in the Peach Bowl in Atlanta; Brigham Young against Oklahoma State in the Fiesta Bowl in Tempe, Ariz., and East against West in the Shrine Game in Palo Alto, Calif.

Monday night Auburn goes against Texas in the Gator Bowl in Jacksonville, Fla. Then it gets serious.

Nebraska plays Florida New Year's Eve in the Sugar Bowl in New Orleans. Penn State and Baylor meet in Dallas in the Cotton Bowl, and Ohio State goes against Southern California in Pasadena, Calif., in the Rose Bowl on New Year's Day. And the whole business climaxes New Year's night with Alabama taking on Notre Dame in the Orange Bowl in Miami.

But first things first.

"Is this the Sun Bowl or the Snow Bowl?," asked North Carolina Coach Bill Dooley, a Mississippi State graduate, after the first Christmas Day storm in El Paso in more than 50 years dumped five inches of snow on the city and dampened the spirits of a mariachi band assembled to greet the Tarheels.

North Carolina, 7-4, will be depending on tailbacks Mike Voight and James Betterson to offset the many talents of Mississippi State quarterback Rockey Felker, the Southeast Conference's most valuable player. The Bulldogs, 8-3, will be making their first bowl appearance since 1963.

College Grid Season To End "I'm one alum who wouldn't get upset at all if Mississippi State didn't play well Saturday," said Dooley.

> The Peach Bowl will mark Jim Carlen's 100th college football game as a head coach and his last for Texas Tech. He is headed for South Carolina next season after leading the Red Raiders to their third straight bowl appearance. Tech dropped three of its last four games to finish with a 6-4-1 record.

> "I predicted before the season we'd be a club that was going to have its ups and downs," said Carlen, "and we did. But we'll be ready for Vanderbilt."

> Senior quarterback David Lee and tailback Jamie O'Rourke helped the Commodores, 7-3-1, lead the SEC in total offense. They will be making only the second bowl appearance in their

> Which is one more than Brigham Young. The Cougars, 7-3-1, won the Western' Athletic Conference and their first Fiesta Bowl trip on the strength of quarterback Gary Sheide's strong right arm. Oklahoma State, 6-5, will doubtless be looking for Sheide to put the ball up and that's just fine with Cougar tailback Jeff Blanc.

> "I'm happy that they will be looking for the pass because I'm going to bust one up the middle in this game," said Blanc. "If they're concentrating on the pass, then that's going to leave the center wide open for me."

> Cowboy fullback Robert Turner is similarly confident. "I think we are going to score several times, and I don't anticipate any difficulty in running against BYU," said Turner.

> Ben Martin of Air Force will coach the West, and Bo Schembechler of Michigan will handle the East in the 50th Shrine game, an affair that will feature Knievel doing nothing more strenuous than taking bows from a golf cart at halftime.

California All-American quarterback Steve Bartkowski will call signals for the West, while Michigan's Dennis Franklin and Tampa's Freddie Solomon will take turns for the Last.

Monday night's Gator Bowl pits Southeast Conference runnerup Auburn, 9-2, against Southwest Conference runnerup Texas, 8-3.

tensive search . . . Rumors were circulating that the Chiefs' next coach would be Don Shula, the highly successful boss of the Miami Dolphins. However, when Hunt and Steadman were asked about the rumor, they both laughed.

Under Stram, the Chiefs scaled the heights of pro football, defeating the Minnesota Vikings 23-7 in the 1970 Super Bowl. After that victory, Stram labeled his rather complicated, multiple offense as "the offense of the 70s.

However, after the Chiefs carved a 10-3-1 record in 1971. the team gradually started downhill and had its worst season ever in 1974 when it won only five of 14 regular season games. The public began to ridicule Stram the last couple of years. A month ago when Muhammad Ali staged exhibition boxing matches in Kansas City, Stram was introduced and was greeted with a barrage of boos. Hunt said public reaction was Super Bowl.

"A pro football team is such a public entity," Hunt explained. The public is certainly a fac-

Hunt said there was no pressure from any of the players and described his action as "a terribly emotional moment for me. I've never had this kind of thing before. Hank grew up with the organization. He is a close friend of mine personally."

Hunt did not use the word "fired" in his announcement. He said he had asked Stram, 50, to step down and added, "We feel the time has come to revitalize our organization and give it a fresh approach. Pro football is demanding and changeable and sometimes it is necessary to take a new outlook."

Hunt indicated he wanted a relatively young coach but would not say how young. He said whether a new coach would be given a multiyear contract would depend on the individual.

Hunt said the Chiefs would need time "to regain championship stature but it can and will be accomplished. We are confident that a new emphasis on scouting will reduce this time to

Hunt said the new coach will not be involved in the negotiation and signing of players, a task he has now de Steadman.

"Because of the complexity of coaching," Hunt said, "player signing and the coaching end should be separated. The important thing is the produce on the field."

Asked where Stram went wrong, Hunt said: "I can't put it in those terms ... the circumstances and the chemistry of this franchise dictated a

Hunt said Stram's coaches are under contract until March 31, 'but they can make arrangements to seek other employment if they desire."

The Chiefs, a charter member of the old American Football League, have just completed their 15th season. Stram's record was 129-79-10.

Huskers Finish Drills With Pads Until Game

Star Sports Editor

New Orleans, La. - There'll be no more contact work for Nebraska's Cornhuskers until they take the field in Tulane Stadium for Tuesday night's Sugar Bowl football game against the Florida Gators.

The Huskers put on their pads for the last time Friday afternoon for an hour and a half workout in the warmest and most humid weather they've had since their arrival here on Christmas eve.

Practice Saturday will be at 10 a.m. in sweat clothes as Coach Tom Osborne and his staff continue to polish the offense and defense to be used against the Gators.

The morning session was set to permit Florida to work in the afternoon. The Gators arrived just after dark Friday following a double practice in Gainesville earlier in the day.

The Huskers plan to work under the lights Sunday and Monday evenings in an attempt to get used to the atmosphere of a night game, their first one of the 1974 season. Kickoff on Tuesday will be 7 p.m., Lincoln time.

"I don't think playing at night will be a factor once we've worked a couple of times under the lights," Osborne said. "The only thing that concerns me is the long wait the day of the game, but we'll probably let the players sleep late that morning."

The 98-man Nebraska squad has been given some free time to enjoy the many sights and events in New Orleans, but Osborne has had bed checks each night at 1 a.m. "That may seem late to some people, but we feel they should have a chance to move around some," Osborne said.

"We told them we didn't want them to do anything to embarrass themselves or the university and we've had no reports from anybody of any one of them being out of line." The Huskers were guests at Al Hirt's Club where the famous jazz trumpeter performed

Saturday night along with members of the Florida team. The affair is an official Sugar Bowl function. Osborne plans to move up the bed check to

Friday night. They'll attend an awards dinner

11 p.m. Sunday and Monday as game time approaches, but the players probably will get two hours of free time after the Sunday practice.

The physical condition of the squad continued to improve and there were no reports of additional players suffering from a 48-hour in-

Nebraska, which will be going after its sixth consecutive bowl game victory, is prepared for both a wet and dry field in Tulane Stadium, which has a "Poly Turf" artificial surface that feels softer than either the NU Memorial Stadium's AstroTurf or any Tartan covered field. Osborne thinks it's because of the pad under the carpet rather than the turf itself.

Each Husker player has two pairs of shoes with him - one for a dry field and the other for a wet turf.

Osborne indicated John O'Leary, who regained his No. 1 I-back job for the Oklahoma game after being slowed most of the year by a broken jaw, will start against the Gators. He said, however, freshman Monte Anthony will alternate with him by series.

The Sugar Bowl game still isn't sold out and Cliff Kern, president of the sponsoring Mid-Winter Sports Association, says it probably won't be unless there is a last minute rush by fans to buy tickets.

The game has been blacked out for television for the first time in ten years because of the slow ticket sale. Kern estimated "about 5,000" remain available, but others say the figure is close to 10,000.

The stadium has 80,985 permanent seats, but a record crowd of 85,161 squeezed into the place a year ago for Notre Dame's thrilling 24-23 victory over Alabama.

Time Better With Sanger Hoping Second

By KEN HAMBLETON Star Sports Writer

Rich Sanger is hoping the second time around will be better.

The former Nebraska kicking standout is getting a second crack at professional football. This time with the Los Angeles

"All my life I've wanted to play pro football," said Sanger, a senior at Nebraska who finished his football eligibility in 1973. "And this will probably be my last chance."

Sanger, who signed with the Houston Oilers of the AFC last year, has signed a two-year contract for an undisclosed amount of money with the Rams of the NFC.

Oilers. Maybe I was expecting too much. But this time around I'm a lot smarter and maybe I won't question the coaches so much," said Sanger. Sanger was released by the Oilers following an exhibition

"I got a bad impression of pro football last year with the game with the Baltimore Colts this past summer. "They had trimmed their roster of punters from 15 down to two. Then following the game I was released without explanation," Sanger

"The offer with the Rams is better than the one I had with Bay Packers 35-10 in the first the Oilers. I guess they can use another kicker and/or punter, and I couldn't think of a better club to be with," he added. "The location is good and the weather is good. I'd be happy to be in Los Angeles as long as I can.'

Sanger, a 6-0, 214-pounder, who set the NCAA record for points after touchdowns with a career total of 157 successful kicks is the second highest scorer of all-time at Nebraska with 220 points, behind Johnny Rodgers' 300.

The Ovid, Colorado native, who returned to the NU campus this year after his tryout with the Oilers, has been helping the Huskers' kicking as a graduate assistant.

"It helped me a lot. I got a lot of practice, both before and · after practices besides working during the sessions," said

"What really helped was watching somebody else. When you see somebody else's mistakes then you can adjust for your

But coaching has not replaced the desire for competition for Sanger. "I want to compete more than ever. Watching is about as much fun as going to a funeral."

Following one of the Nebraska workouts this fall Sanger was practicing some kicking when NU's tight end and wingback coach, John Melton, asked Rams' scout Norm Pollum to take a look at the Huskers' most prolific kicker ever.

"I didn't know he was there watching me. But I was hitting real good and having one of my better days. I guess he liked

"John Melton has done so many good things for me. He was the one that got me to come here from high school," Sanger

Sanger feels that he is ready for getting back into pro football and that if he maintains his present pace he will be able to find a place on the Rams roster.

"I kick every day, just to keep up the pace. If I'm able to keep punting like I am now, I should be better than 75 per cent of the kickers in the NFL. But you never know what the difference is when you're just practicing and when you're in a

"I'm more consistant than last year and that's what the pros are looking for. You have to be able to kick successfully from inside the 40-yard line without missing because of the new rules that return the ball to the point a field goal was attempted if it

"I'm going to try kicking both field goals and punts, but I'd rather be a punter if I had to choose," said Sanger, who averaged 40.1 yards during his Nebraska football career.

"I've learned that I'll never question the coaches, and I'll do anything they ask. I guess that I was just spoiled by the NU coaches because they had such a good system - where they have a helpful attitude toward players and take a real interest in each person. At Houston, the coaches acted like the players were just something they had to put up with," he concluded.

If the old saying, "Experience is the best teacher", is true, then Sanger should have a fruitful professional career ahead.

Nebraska Wesleyan Friend Triumphs, Sandwiched between games of its own Dakota State, I felt we made a lot of progress." Friend Triumphs, 54-50

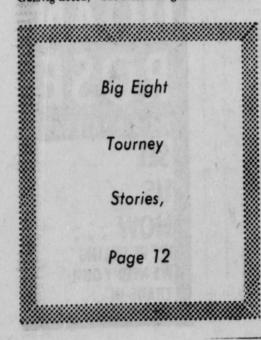

Sandwiched between games of its own holiday high school basketball tournament, Nebraska Wesleyan will host Concordia, Minn., at 7:30 p.m. Saturday night in Taylor Gym.

Wesleyan at 4-2 holds a decisive win-loss advantage over the visiting Cobbers at 0-3.

The contest could be a high scoring affair with the Plainsmen giving up an average of 90.5 points per game and Concordia yielding 82 per contest.

The Cobbers' most recent loss, 59-55 to North Dakota State, was termed by coach Sonny Gulsvig as their best game thus far.

"We're a young team and not very big," Gulsvig noted, "but after our game with North Dakota State, I felt we made a lot of progress."

The game between the schools will mark the first meeting ever between the two.

The Plainsmen hold a definite height advantage with 6-9 sophomore Blake Butler at the post position. Concordia's tallest starter is 6-5 sophomore center Doug Boese. As a team, NWU averages one inch taller than the visitors.

Wesleyan coach Irv Peterson was a bit concerned with the way NWU handled a full court press applied by their last opponent, Mt. Marty of Yankton, S.D.

We had a 13 point lead for three-quarters of the ball game and then they put on a tight press that was hard to handle," Peterson noted. "We had to fight for our lives at the end."

Peterson praised the play of Butler and guard Larry Abel for their roles in the three point (101-98) win.

The Saturday game, scheduled to be telecast on Lincoln's cable TV station, channel 9, will be the first of two Wesleyan games over the holiday tournament period.

Monday night, Wesleyan will tackle Tarkio, Mo. in another 7:30 contest, immediately preceeding the finals of the high school meet.

Tarkio brings a 3-2 record into the game with only one returning starter from last years' 18-7 Heart of America conference champions. The Owls lost their first two games, and since have won three straight, the latter a 99-55 thrashing of Peru State on Dec. 12. Their scoring balance is evident with all five starters averaging in double figures. Wesleyan has four averaging 10 or better with two at 9.7.

That was obvious Friday after his Friend basketball team upset Raymond Central, 54-50, in the first round of the Nebraska Wesleyan Holiday Tournament at Ira Taylor Gym.

College Grid Season To End

By The Associated Press

An unexpected snowfall in El Paso, a farewell appearance in Atlanta, a pair of cocky running backs in Tempe and daredevil Evel Knievel riding around in a golf cart are among the ingredients Saturday as college football bowls its way toward the end of its four-month campaign.

By the time New Year's night has come and gone, no fewer than 18 teams will have made their bids for immortality and hefty alumni contributions, and all of them will have done so live and in color in living rooms across the nation.

Saturday it'll be Mississippi State against North Carolina in the Sun Bowl in El Paso, Tex.; Vanderbilt against Texas Tech in the Peach Bowl in Atlanta; Brigham Young against Oklahoma State in the Fiesta Bowl in Tempe, Ariz., and East against West in the Shrine Game in Palo Alto, Calif.

Monday night Auburn goes against Texas in the Gator Bowl in Jacksonville, Fla. Then it gets serious.

Nebraska plays Florida New Year's Eve in the Sugar Bowl in New Orleans. Penn State and Baylor meet in Dallas in the Cotton Bowl, and Ohio State goes against Southern California in Pasadena, Calif., in the Rose Bowl on New Year's Day. And the whole business climaxes New Year's night with Alabama taking on Notre Dame in the Orange Bowl in Miami.

But first things first.

"Is this the Sun Bowl or the Snow Bowl?," asked North Carolina Coach Bill Dooley, a Mississippi State graduate, after the first Christmas Day storm in El Paso in more than 50 years dumped five inches of snow on the city and dampened the spirits of a mariachi band assembled to greet the Tarheels.

North Carolina, 7-4, will be depending on tailbacks Mike' Voight and James Betterson to offset the many talents of Mississippi State quarterback Rockey Felker, the Southeast Conference's most valuable player. The Bulldogs, 8-3, will be making their first bowl appearance since 1963.

"I'm one alum who wouldn't get upset at all if Mississippi State didn't play well Saturday," said Dooley.

The Peach Bowl will mark Jim Carlen's 100th college football game as a head coach and his last for Texas Tech. He is headed for South Carolina next season after leading the Red Raiders to their third straight bowl appearance. Tech dropped three of its last four games to finish with a 6-4-1 record. "I predicted before the season we'd be a club that was going to have its ups and downs," said Carlen, "and we did. But we'll be ready for Vanderbilt.' Senior quarterback David Lee and tailback Jamie O'Rourke helped the Commodores, 7-3-1, lead the SEC in total offense. They will be making only the second bowl appearance in their

Which is one more than Brigham Young. The Cougars, 7-3-1, won the Western Athletic Conference and their first Fiesta Bowl trip on the strength of quarterback Gary Sheide's strong right arm. Oklahoma State, 6-5, will doubtless be looking for Sheide to put the ball up and that's just fine with Cougar tailback Jeff Blanc.

"I'm happy that they will be looking for the pass because I'm going to bust one up the middle in this game," said Blanc. "If they're concentrating on the pass, then that's going to leave the center wide open for me.'

Cowboy fullback Robert Turner is similarly confident. "I think we are going to score several times, and I don't anticipate any difficulty in running against BYU," said Turner. Ben Martin of Air Force will coach the West, and Bo Schembechler of Michigan will handle the East in the 50th Shrine game, an affair that will feature Knievel doing nothing more strenuous than taking bows from a golf cart at halftime.

California All-American quarterback Steve Bartkowski will call signals for the West, while Michigan's Dennis Franklin and Tampa's Freddie Solomon will take turns for the East.

Monday night's Gator Bowl pits Southeast Conference runnerup Auburn, 9-2, against Southwest Conference runnerup

Pirates, Rangers' Officials Latest To Talk With Hunter

AHOSKIE, N. C. (AP) - Catfish Hunter's attorney said Friday night that the field has been narrowed to eight teams in the bidding for the services of the former Oakland righthander.

He did not specify the eight teams.

Joseph Flythe, the attorney who has been handling the negotiations for the free-agent pitcher, said in a telephone interview that "all of the teams were obviously interested in Jim. But some didn't offer a real good contract.

"So frankly we told them right then and there that there is just no way" they could sign baseball's hottest property.

After snipping two-thirds of the list of the 24 eligible baseball teams, Flythe said eight teams remained. "They are scattered all over the country," he said.

He did say, however, that one of the teams was the A's, who lost the 1974 Cy Young Award winner when an arbitration panel ruled on Dec. 16 that Oakland owner Charles O. Finley had violated Hunter's contract.

Then, expressing what he called a personal opinion, Flythe said: "I feel that Hunter would rather play on the East coast. Flythe said that Hunter had played in cities of all of the remaining teams but one during the regular or exhibition season. He added that two of the eligible teams had not made personal appeals in Ahoskie but made their bids by telephone. One of those two is Oakland.

The teams that have journeyed to this tobacco farming community are: New York Yankees, Boston Red Sox, San Diego Padres, Texas Rangers, Milwaukee Brewers, Los Angeles Dodgers, Cleveland Indians, Philadelphia Phillies, California Angels, Pittsburgh Pirates, Houston Astros, Montreal Expos. The teams that have pulled out are the Detroit Tigers,

Gators Pass Quite A Bit

just short of an average of 13 passes a game en route to an 8-3 season which earned the Gators a Sugar Bowl berth against Nebraska, passing isn't a particular concern of NU coach Tom Osborne

"I still think the primary concern when you play against a wishbone team has to be the running game even though they do throw well," Osborne said Friday after his Cornhuskers held their final workout in pads.

Wishbone teams all run the same plays, but the proportion of what they run differs depending on personnel, Osborne said.

"Some will run options more, some will run inside more," he said. "They try to capitalize on individual strengths. For instance, the counter dive is probably Oklahoma's No. 1 play. They get everything going one way and then pop Joe Washington back on a dive play to the weak side."

Gators probably don't have the one back they plan to capitalize on like Washington.

Osborne quickly added. "I think he might be better than (Jim) Littrell (OU's fullback). He's just a good football player."

freshman Tony Green, who rushed for 856 yards to set a single season Gator school record while starting only two of 11 regular

"Maybe he's not a Joe Washington, but he's a great back," Osborne added. Green's average per rush was 6.4 yards, a figure topped only by wingback Don Westbrook among Husker regulars. Westbrook's average was 6.8 yards while I-back Monte Anthony averaged 5.4 yards in leading NU ball carriers. Tony Davis and John O'Leary each averaged an even five yards.

Florida has two quarterbacks who play almost equal time even though Don Gaffney has gotten the most pre-bowl publicity. The other one is freshman Jimmy Fisher.

"Gaffney is probably a more elusive runner than either of the wishbone quarterbacks we've faced, but he's probably not as strong as Steve Davis of Oklahoma," Osborne said. "Davis is a strong runner with great execution." The other wishbone QB

Between Gaffney and Fisher, the total yardage gained was 542 before subtracting losses while attempting to pass. Each got loose for at least one long run to indicate they're dangerous more concerned about the Gator running game.

The NU coach also was impressed by the play of Florida's offensive and defensive lines, which he said have good size. "Somehow I pictured them as not being that big, but they're the game I saw personally against Miami," Osborne said. "They would definitely have to be as good a defensive team as any we've faced this year, including Oklahoma."

Both of the Lincoln Joys girls basketball teams beat Omaha opponents to hike their records to 3-0.

No. 1 beat Omaha Shamrock, 50-30, with Kelly O'Neal and Suzanne Sutton the top scorers with 10 points each.

In the Christ The King Invitational Jovs No. 2 defeated Mary Our Queen, 21-15, with Coleen Weygint the top scorer with nine points.

Baltimore Orioles, Cincinnati Reds, St. Louis Cardinals.

The San Francisco Giants never made a bid for Hunter. That leaves the New York Mets, Chicago Cubs and Chicago White Sox as teams who have neither made personal appearances nor pulled out of the sweepstakes.

The brass from the Pittsburgh Pirates and the Texas Rangers came to this tobacco farming community Friday to talk to

Hunter and his attorneys met with both delegations, and Hunter said he would begin considering all initial offers on Sunday. He said he would visit the cities with the best bids, and would make no decision as to which team he will play for until

In other developments, the Cincinnati Reds and Houston Astros became the fifth and sixth teams to formally drop out of the bidding for the 28-year-old Hunter, and the Minnesota Twins were reported ready to offer the former Oakland A's ace a $1.2

And Hunter disclosed Friday evening that he had eaten dinner at his home in nearby Hertford Thursday night with A's Manager Alvin Dark. Hunter said he and Dark discussed several things but did not go into the specifics of the unique case in which the sport's top-rate pitcher has become a free agent who will get a contract worth more than a million dollars.

General Manager Joe L. Brown and President Dan Galbreath presented the Pirates' case in two meetings Friday, one in the morning and the other late in the afternoon. The Rangers sent an eight-man delegation, headed by General Manager Daniel F. O'Brien.

Brown and O'Brien both said they thought the addition of

Hunter to their teams would guarantee them a divisional title, and both said they had made offers to Hunter.

"It would absolutely make the difference in our club," said Galbreath. "Any contending team, plus a 20-game winner, will make the difference in who wins their division. He's (Hunter) the finest pitcher in baseball."

O'Brien, who passed out cowboy hats to Hunter and his attorneys at the law offices of Cherry, Cherry and Flythe, said, "Coupled with Ferguson Jenkins, it would be two great righthanders and we would definitely win the pennant.

Hunter said he and his attorneys would study the 12 offers they have, and that he would then visit the cities with the best offers to study suburban areas where his fa nily might live. Hunter said he would not sign with any team until that search is completed, meaning it would be at least Jan. 8 before some club's offer results in the employment of the former Oakland pitcher who has won 106 games in the past five seasons. Hunter did not specifically say which cities he would visit, but in explaining his decision to wait for 10 days to make a decision he mentioned New York as one area he would want to visit before committing himself to living there. The Yankees have met twice with the pitcher and his attorneys.

After the Pirates' 90-minute morning session with Hunter and his attorneys, Galbreath said the meeting had been a good one. After the 45-minute afternoon meeting, Brown said, "It would be premature for me to speculate on our chances ... You'll have to ask Catfish what our chances are."

The meeting with the Rangers also lasted about 45 minutes. The Houston Astros, represented by General Manager Spec Richardson, were to have met with Hunter Friday afternoon. and Cincinnati Reds' General Manager Bob Howsam was to have been here Saturday morning. But both teams dropped out of the bidding on Friday.

Other teams to remove themselves from the Catfish sweepstakes are St. Louis, Baltimore and Detroit. Four teams, including Oakland, have never contacted Hunter's attorneys. In Minneapolis, where the Twins were reported to have offered Hunter $1.2 million to try and lift their record and sagging attendance, team President Calvin Griffith said:

'We're going to go slightly over a million. The Hunter matter is one of those once-in-a-lifetime happenings. I think most of our players would be glad to see us get Hunter because it might add about $25,000 to their contracts if he pitched us into the World But in Cincinnati, Howsam said his team had decided not to compete with the high rollers because "the dollar and economic factors are so bad that it would not be fair to the present players on our club, our fans or the club itself for the Reds to continue. The bidding for Hunter began two weeks ago when a three-man arbitration panel ruled Oakland owner Charles O. Finley had failed to live up the terms of Hunter's contract.

A hearing on Finley's motion for an injunction against the arbitration decision is scheduled for Jan. 3 in California.

It was not clear Friday whether Hunter and his attorneys would meet with any more teams before beginning final consideration of the offers. There were no meetings scheduled, but a team could presumably put in a last-minute pitch before the Sunday deadline.

After that, the pitcher and his advisers will begin going back to the teams with the best offers.

KSU Triumphs Over Missouri

halftime advantage

By MARK GORDON

Star Sports Writer Kansas City, Mo. — Missouri's attempt to set Big Eight Tournament history was never really a serious bid at all.

The Tigers were crushed by Kansas State, 84-67, in Friday night's opening-round contest of the 29th Annual Big Eight Preseason Basketball Tournament here at Kemper Arena.

With that loss, Missouri lost its chance to win an unprecedented fourth straight preseason tournament. It would have been a major accomplishment since the Tigers were heavy underdogs this season. But everyone said the Tigers of Coach Norm Stewart would

Kansas City, Mo. - It didn't take Iowa State long to demonstrate new coach Ken Trickey's offensive velocity. "We want to run and shoot" was what Trickey told Cyclone backers when he arrived at Ames this year. That's exactly what the Cyclones accomplished in tromping Colorado, 107-82, here Friday night in opening-round action of the 29th Annual Big Eight Preseason Basketball Trickey termed accurate Iowa State free-throw shooting as a major factor in the lop-sided contest. ISU, despite only outfieldgoaling Colorado 38-35, hit 31 of 43 free throws while the Buffs scored on only 12 of 22.

NU's Porter Concerned With Kansas' Bench Strength

Probable Lineups

NEBRASKA (7-3)

> By MARK GORDON Star Sports Writer

Kansas City, Mo. - Sometimes the best Kansas basketball players are watching the action from the bench. It's not that they are injured, it's just that the Jayhawks are so talented.

That analysis comes from Nebraska assistant basketball coach Lonnie Porter who scouted the Jayhawks during their 88-68 win Thursday night over Oklahoma State in an opening round Big Eight Tournament test at Kemper Arena.

He's concerned about coach Ted Owens' pre-tournament favorites for a reason -Nebraska meets Kansas in the tournament's 7 p.m. semifinal test Saturday at Kemper Arena.

"Their lineup is questionable . . . They have so many players on the bench that have experience from last year," he said. "The thing about Kansas is that they have so much talent.

"The three guys on the bench are all capable of hitting 20 points and they all have been starters at one time so you really can't concentrate all your efforts on any one player."

The trio that has been relegated to benchduty (at least at the start of games) includes 6-10 senior center Rick Suttle, who has averaged 13.6 points-per-game over the past two years; 6-4 senior forward Tommie Smith, a 7.2 points-pergame man; and 6-6 senior forward Roger Morningstar, who averaged 12.3 points-per-game last year.

With talent like that it might at first seem surprising that KU is only 5-4 after nine games. Surprising until you consider that the Jayhawks have lost to:

—the nation's second-ranked Indiana Hoosiers by only 74-70, in overtime.

-nationally-rated Notre Dame, 75-59, at South Bend.

-powerful Washington, 74-64, in the finals of the Jayhawk Classic.

-strong Kentucky at Louisville.

While everyone openly admits to the Jayhawks' physical size, the notion that they lack quickness is quickly disputed by Porter.

"It's true that they don't have what might be called super quickness in one sense," Porter explained. "But they don't have speed. There's a difference, they do have quickness.

"Look at Clint Johnson (a freshman who netted 20 points in the Oklahorna State game) if he doesn't have quickness, I'd like to know who does," he said.

The Huskers (7-3), meanwhile, are keying on two aspects in an attempt to stop the

"We can only give Kansas the one shot," Porter noted. "I know it is an often-used cliche, but I can't emphasize that enough since they're so strong and physical.

- "Secondly, we can't let them pressure us," he added. "We'll have to bring the ball down the court without hurrying our offense. We just have to settle down and play our own game."

That's what the Huskers did best in downing Oklahoma, 75-64, on Thursday night.

They forced the more physical Sooners into 23 turnovers and took their time in working the plays they do best.

TOURNEY NOTES - Nebraska and Kansas have met five of the last six years here in the Big Eight Tournament with NU winning, 78-73, in 1969 and 74-72, in 1972. Kansas defeated the Huskers for the 1970 tourney championship, 72-52, and beat NU, 75-66, here last year in the consolation finals ... The Jayhawks have been overwhelming in the Big Eight meet against Nebraska capturing 10 of 12 games ... NU coach Joe Cipriano sports an 8-20 mark at Nebraska against KU . . . Oklahoma coach Joe Ramsey praised Nebraska's defense, saying, "that defense is as much a part of their offense

Chiefs' Hunt Fires Stram

KANSAS CITY (AP) - Hank a factor in his decision to re-Stram was fired Friday as head coach of the Kansas City Chiefs. He has seven years remaining on his million-dollar contract.

The announcement was made at a hastily called midafternoon news conference by Lamar Hunt, owner of the National Football League club. Stram, only coach the Chiefs have ever had, was not present at the news conference nor was he in his office at Arrowhead Stadium. Hunt said he had notified Stram of his decision Friday morning after "conversations with Hank had been going on for a year or more."

Stram signed a 10-year contract three years ago. The contract was estimated to pay $100,-000 a year. Hunt said subsequent payments on the contract would be made to Stram "as they become due."

"I am determined that the Chiefs are going to be a source of pride," Hunt said. "I'm confident this announcement today will begin a new era in that respect.

Hunt said the search for Stram's successor would begin immediately and that Jack Steadman, the club's general manager, would "seek out and employ the best qualified coach available.'

Steadman said he has "not talked to anyone at this time. We will begin an immediate and intensive search

Rumors were circulating that Don Shula, the highly successful boss of the Miami Dolphins. However, when Hunt and Steadman were asked about the rumor, they both laughed.

Under Stram, the Chiefs scaled the heights of pro football, defeating the Minnesota Vikings 23-7 in the 1970 Super Bowl. After that victory, Stram labeled his rather complicated, multiple offense as "the offense of the 70s."

However, after the Chiefs carved a 10-3-1 record in 1971, the team gradually started downhill and had its worst season ever in 1974 when it won only five of 14 regular season games.

The public began to ridicule Stram the last couple of years. A month ago when Muhammad Ali staged exhibition boxing matches in Kansas City, Stram was introduced and was greeted with a barrage of boos.

place the dapper Stram, a shortand-rotund man.

Hunt said there was no pressure from any of the players and described his action as "a terribly emotional moment for me. I've never had this kind of thing before. Hank grew up with the organization. He is a close friend of mine personally."

Hunt did not use the word "fired" in his announcement. He said he had asked Stram, 50, to step down and added, "We feel the time has come to revitalize our organization and give it a fresh approach. Pro football is demanding and changeable and sometimes it is necessary to take a new outlook."

Hunt indicated he wanted a relatively young coach but would not say how young. He said whether a new coach would be given a multiyear contract would depend on the individual.

Hunt said the Chiefs would need time "to regain championship stature but it can and will be accomplished. We are confident that a new emphasis on scouting will reduce this time to a minimum.'

Hunt said the new coach will not be involved in the negotiation and signing of players, a task he has now delegated to Steadman.

Because of the complexity of coaching," Hunt said, "player signing and the coaching end should be separated. The important thing is the produce on the field.'

Asked where Stram went wrong, Hunt said: "I can't put it in those terms ... the circumstances and the chemistry of this franchise dictated a change."

Hunt said Stram's coaches are under contract until March 31, "but they can make arrangements to seek other employment if they desire."

The Chiefs, a charter member of the old American Football League, have just completed their 15th season. Stram's record was 129-79-10.

Stram, a native of Gary, Inc., led his teams to AFL championships in 1962, 1966 and 1969. His 1966 team lost to the Green Bay Packers 35-10 in the first Hunt said public reaction was Super Bowl.

Huskers Finish Drills With Pads Until Game

Star Sports Editor .

New Orleans, La. - There'll be no more contact work for Nebraska's Cornhuskers until they take the field in Tulane Stadium for Tuesday night's Sugar Bowl football game against the Florida Gators.

The Huskers put on their pads for the last time Friday afternoon for an hour and a half workout in the warmest and most humid weather they've had since their arrival here on Christmas eve.

Practice Saturday will be at 10 a.m. in sweat clothes as Coach Tom Osborne and his staff continue to polish the offense and defense to be used against the Gators.

The morning session was set to permit Florida to work in the afternoon. The Gators arrived just after dark Friday following a double practice in Gainesville earlier in the day. The Huskers plan to work under the lights

Sunday and Monday evenings in an attempt to get used to the atmosphere of a night game, their first one of the 1974 season. Kickoff on Tuesday will be 7 p.m., Lincoln time. "I don't think playing at night will be a factor once we've worked a couple of times under the lights," Osborne said. "The only thing that concerns me is the long wait the day of the game, but we'll probably let the players sleep late that morning.' The 98-man Nebraska squad has been given some free time to enjoy the many sights and events in New Orleans, but Osborne has had bed

checks each night at I a.m. "That may seem late to some people, but we feel they should have a chance to move around some," Osborne said.

"We told them we didn't want them to do anything to embarrass themselves or the university and we've had no reports from anybody of any one of them being out of line." The Huskers were guests at Al Hirt's Club where the famous jazz trumpeter performed

Friday night. They'll attend an awards dinner Saturday night along with members of the Florida team. The affair is an official Sugar Bowl function. Osborne plans to move up the bed check to

11 p.m. Sunday and Monday as game time approaches, but the players probably will get two hours of free time after the Sunday practice. The physical condition of the squad continued to improve and there were no reports of additional players suffering from a 48-hour influenza virus. Nebraska, which will be going after its sixth consecutive bowl game victory, is prepared for both a wet and dry field in Tulane Stadium, which has a "Poly Turf" artificial surface that feels softer than either the NU Memorial Stadium's AstroTurf or any Tartan covered field. Osborne thinks it's because of the pad under the carpet rather than the turf itself. Each Husker player has two pairs of shoes with him — one for a dry field and the other for a wet turf. Osborne indicated John O'Leary, who regained his No. 1 I-back job for the Oklahoma game after being slowed most of the year by a broken jaw, will start against the Gators. He said, however, freshman Monte Anthony will alternate with him by series. The Sugar Bowl game still isn't sold out and Cliff Kern, president of the sponsoring Mid-

Winter Sports Association, says it probably won't be unless there is a last minute rush by fans to buy tickets. The game has been blacked out for television for the first time in ten years because of the slow ticket sale. Kern estimated "about 5,000" remain available, but others say the figure is close to 10,000. The stadium has 80,985 permanent seats, but a record crowd of 85,161 squeezed into the place a year ago for Notre Dame's thrilling 24-23 victory over Alabama.

Sanger Hoping Second Time Better With Pros

Rich Sanger is hoping the second time around will be

The former Nebraska kicking standout is getting a second crack at professional football. This time with the Los Angeles "All my life I've wanted to play pro football," said Sanger, a senior at Nebraska who finished his football eligibility in 1973.

"And this will probably be my last chance." Sanger, who signed with the Houston Oilers of the AFC last year, has signed a two-year contract for an undisclosed amount of money with the Rams of the NFC. 'I got a bad impression of pro football last year with the Oilers. Maybe I was expecting too much. But this time around I'm a lot smarter and maybe I won't question the coaches so much," said Sanger. Sanger was released by the Oilers following an exhibition game with the Baltimore Colts this past summer. "They had trimmed their roster of punters from 15 down to two. Then following the game I was released without explanation," Sanger

"The offer with the Rams is better than the one I had with the Oilers. I guess they can use another kicker and/or punter, and I couldn't think of a better club to be with," he added. "The location is good and the weather is good. I'd be happy to be in Los Angeles as long as I can."

Sanger, a 6-0, 214-pounder, who set the NCAA record for points after touchdowns with a career total of 157 successful kicks is the second highest scorer of all-time at Nebraska with 220 points, behind Johnny Rodgers' 300.

The Ovid, Colorado native, who returned to the NU campus this year after his tryout with the Oilers, has been helping the Huskers' kicking as a graduate assistant. "It helped me a lot. I got a lot of practice, both before and after practices besides working during the sessions," said 'What really helped was watching somebody else. When you see somebody else's mistakes then you can adjust for your own," he added. But coaching has not replaced the desire for competition for Sanger, "I want to compete more than ever, Watching is about as much fun as going to a funeral." Following one of the Nebraska workouts this fall Sanger was practicing some kicking when NU's tight end and wingback coach, John Melton, asked Rams' scout Norm Pollum to take a

"I didn't know he was there watching me. But I was hitting real good and having one of my better days. I guess he liked what I was doing," Sanger commented.

"John Melton has done so many good things for me. He was the one that got me to come here from high school," Sanger

Sanger feels that he is ready for getting back into pro football and that if he maintains his present pace he will be able to find a place on the Rams roster.

"I kick every day, just to keep up the pace. If I'm able to keep punting like I am now, I should be better than 75 per cent of the kickers in the NFL. But you never know what the difference is when you're just practicing and when you're in a "I'm more consistant than last year and that's what the pros are looking for. You have to be able to kick successfully from inside the 40-yard line without missing because of the new rules that return the ball to the point a field goal was attempted if it misses," he added.

"I'm going to try kicking both field goals and punts, but I'd rather be a punter if I had to choose," said Sanger, who averaged 40.1 yards during his Nebraska football career.

"I've learned that I'll never question the coaches, and I'll do anything they ask. I guess that I was just spoiled by the NU coaches because they had such a good system - where they have a helpful attitude toward players and take a real interest in each person. At Houston, the coaches acted like the players were just something they had to put up with," he concluded. If the old saying, "Experience is the best teacher", is true, then Sanger should have a fruitful professional career ahead.

Nebraska Wesleyan Friend Triumphs, Hosts Minnesota Club 54-50

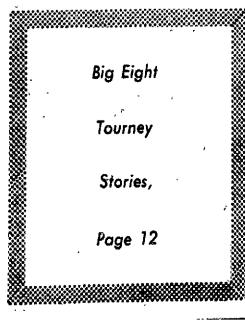

Sandwiched between games of its own holiday high school basketball tournament. Nebraska Wesleyan will host Concordia, Minn., at 7:30 p.m. Saturday night in Taylor Gym.

Wesleyan at 4-2 holds a decisive win-loss advantage over the visiting Cobbers at 0-3.

The contest could be a high scoring affair with the Plainsmen giving up an average of 90.5 points per game and Concordia yielding 82 per contest. The Cobbers' most recent loss, 59-55 to North Dakota State, was termed by coach Sonny Gulsvig as their best game thus far.

"We're a young team and not very big," Gulsvig noted, "but after our game with North Dakota State, I felt we made a lot of progress."

The game between the schools will mark the first meeting ever between the two. The Plainsmen hold a definite height advantage with 6-9 sophomore Blake Butler at the post position. Concordia's tallest starter is 6-5 sophomore center Doug Boese. As a team, NWU averages one inch taller than the visitors.

Wesleyan coach Irv Peterson was a bit concerned with the way NWU handled a full court press applied by their last opponent, Mt. Marty of Yankton, S.D.

"We had a 13 point lead for three-quarters of the ball game and then they put on a tight press that was hard to handle," Peterson noted.

'We had to fight for our lives at the end." Peterson praised the play of Butler and guard Larry Abel for their roles in the three point (101-98) win.

The Saturday game, scheduled to be telecast on Lincoln's cable TV station, channel 9, will be the first of two Wesleyan gamer over the holiday tournament period...

Monday night, Wesleyan will tackle Tarkio, Mo. in another 7:30 contest, immediately preceeding the finals of the high school meet.

Tarkio brings a 3-2 record into the game with only one returning starter from last years' 18-7 Heart of America conference champions. The Owls lost their first two games, and since have won three straight, the latter a 99-55 thrashing of Peru State on Dec. 12. Their scoring balance is evident with all five starters averaging in double figures. Wesleyan has four averaging 10 or better with two at 9.7.

By the time New Year's night has come and gone, no fewer than 18 teams will have made their bids for immortality and hefty alumni contributions, and all of them will have done so live and in color in living rooms across the nation.

Saturday it'll be Mississippi State against North Carolina in the Sun Bowl in El Paso, Tex.; Vanderbilt against Texas Tech in the Peach Bowl in Atlanta; Brigham Young against Oklahoma State in the Fiesta Bowl in Tempe, Ariz., and East against West in the Shrine Game in Palo Alto, Calif.

Monday night Auburn goes against Texas in the Gator Bowl in Jacksonville, Fla. Then it gets serious.

Nebraska plays Florida New Year's Eve in the Sugar Bowl in New Orleans. Penn State and Baylor meet in Dallas in the Cotton Bowl, and Ohio State goes against Southern California in Pasadena, Calif., in the Rose Bowl on New Year's Day. And the whole business climaxes New Year's night with Alabama taking on Notre Dame in the Orange Bowl in Miami.

But first things first.

"Is this the Sun Bowl or the Snow Bowl?," asked North Carolina Coach Bill Dooley, a Mississippi State graduate, after the first Christmas Day storm in El Paso in more than 50 years dumped five inches of snow on the city and dampened the spirits of a mariachi band assembled to greet the Tarheels.

North Carolina, 7-4, will be depending on tailbacks Mike' Voight and James Betterson to offset the many talents of Mississippi State quarterback Rockey Felker, the Southeast Conference's most valuable player. The Bulldogs, 8-3, will be making their first bowl appearance since 1963.

College Grid Season To End "I'm one alum who wouldn't get upset at all if Mississippi

> State didn't play well Saturday," said Dooley. The Peach Bowl will mark Jim Carlen's 100th college football game as a head coach and his last for Texas Tech. He is headed for South Carolina next season after leading the Red Raiders to their third straight bowl appearance. Tech dropped three of its > last four games to finish with a 6-4-1 record. "I predicted before the season we'd be a club that was going to have its ups and downs," said Carlen, "and we did. But we'll > be ready for Vanderbilt." Senior quarterback David Lee and tailback Jamie O'Rourke helped the Commodores, 7-3-1, lead the SEC in total offense. They will be making only the second bowl appearance in their

> 1, won the Western Athletic Conference and their first Fiesta Bowl trip on the strength of quarterback Gary Sheide's strong right arm. Oklahoma State, 6-5, will doubtless be looking for Sheide to put the ball up and that's just fine with Cougar tailback Jeff Blanc.

Which is one more than Brigham Young. The Cougars, 7-3-

"I'm happy that they will be looking for the pass because I'm going to bust one up the middle in this game," said Blanc. "If they're concentrating on the pass, then that's going to leave the center wide open for me."

Cowboy fullback Robert Turner is similarly confident. "I think we are going to score several times, and I don't anticipate any difficulty in running against BYU," said Turner.

Ben Martin of Air Force will coach the West, and Bo Schembechler of Michigan will handle the East in the 50th Shrine game, an affair that will feature Knievel doing nothing more strenuous than taking bows from a golf cart at halftime.

California All-American quarterback Steve Bartkowski will call signals for the West, while Michigan's Dennis Franklin and Tampa's Freddie Solomon will take turns for the East.

Monday night's Gator Bowl pits Southeast Conference runnerup Auburn, 9-2, against Southwest Conference runnerup Texas, 8-3.

LES Hikes Downtown Steam Charge By 81%

By LYNN ZERSCHLING Star Staff Writer

Despite repeated protests from downtown businessmen, the Lincoln Electric System (LES) Administrative Board Friday hiked steam rates

The board urged City Council adoption of the rate increase for implementation Jan. 1.

Attorney J. Taylor Greer, calling the proposed rates "exorbitant," said he will take the businessmen's case to the City Council Monday night in an effort to overturn the board's decision. Successful Earlier

Greer was successful earlier this year in getting the council to overturn another LES Board decision on the closing date for the K St. power plant, which produces the steam. The board had set a 1976 closing date for the plant. The lawmakers extended that deadline until 1977.

The one-year extension will enable the city to study the possibility of building a central plant which would burn garbage for fuel, the council will force many LES customers to convert to another force of fuel, thus foreclosing the possibility of hooking into a central heating plant. Pay 'Fair Share'

Greer charged that the higher steam rates

LES officials have argued that other electric ratepayers have footed the bill long enough for downtown steam users and contend that the steam customers should pay "their fair share."

According to LES figures, that share will be upped 81% from an average bill of $5 per 1,000 pounds of steam to $9.07 per 1,000 pounds of

Greer charged that LES is improperly charging steam customers for other K St. operation costs and for electricity generated at the

LES Board member Betty McClendon said the board is vitally interested in keeping the downtown strong but argued that continuing the present subsidy to downtown merchants is not the way to do the job. She suggested the city could help the downtown by building more parking facilities which would benefit both the businessmen and the public.

Group Favors Concentrating On Redevelopment Of Clinton

mended Friday that most dollars. of the $499,000 in federal community development money expected next year be channeled into the Clinton neighborhood.

That recommendation will be forwarded to the city's Community Development Task Force which is compiling a oneand three-year development program for Lincoln's neighborhoods.

Several representatives from other areas have questioned whether the Clinton neighborhood should receive

most of next year's federal

Community Development Director Leo Scherer and Planning Director Doug Brogden recommended that Clinton be pegged as the city's main redevelopment project next year. The officials argued that plans already are underway to redevelop that area, from 27th to 33rd and Holdrege to the railroad tracks.

The subcommittee agreed with members Coleen Seng and Steve Slaideu to urge the task force not to concentrate on the Clinton area alone. The group said other neighborhood needs should be studied and that information should be gathered on the problems that the handicapped and elderly face citywide in obtaining services.

The 22-member task force meets Jan. 16 to discuss the recommendations.

Lincoln expects to receive $499,000 in federal community development money next year. Over the next six-year period that amount could total $8.9

Amy Vanderbilt Apparent Suicide

New York (UPI) - Columnist and etiquette expert Amy Vanderbilt died late Friday in a plunge from a second story window of her East Side apartment. Police said the death was apparently suicide, although an official ruling was not immediately

Police said a passerby found the body of the 66-year-old author of the "New Complete Book of Etiquette," and syndicated columnist about 6:55 p.m. CST, lying on the sidewalk in front of her apartment.

Police said her husband, Curtis Kellar, was inside the apartment when the incident occurred. He walked into the front room, noticed his wife was not inside, and saw the open window, officers said.

Police said that there was no suicide note found, but that the death was an "apparent suicide.

However, Kellar, reached later at home, said his wife had been sick for a long time with hypertension and had been taking various drugs. He said she complained of dizbut in good spirits. "She said she'd be seeing us right after New Year's. I can't think of any reason why she'd commit suicide.

The friend, who asked not to be identified, said Miss Vanderbilt suffered from hypertension and had spent a few weeks in a hospital in August, "but they got it under control and she went on a diet, lost weight and was feeling well.

Jury To Balance Watergate Account

Ehe New York Eimes

Washington - The prosecution wound up the final arguments at the Watergate cover-up trial Friday by telling the jurors it was now up to them to "balance the accounts?' and close the ledgers on

The jury will begin deliberation on Monday, after instructions by Judge John J.

"It's no fun casting stones," the chief prosecutor, James F. Neal, told the jury. 'This government that's represented here does not cast stones with joy or happiness.

"But to keep society going, stones must be cast. People must be called to account.

Neal's appeal capped a full and often emotional day in which one of the defense time, "but I also knew that I lawyers, summing up the case before his wasn't going to let the prospect client, wept openly, and another of the prosecutors, summing up part of the government's case, told of his pride that the country was "confident" and strong enough to have such a trial.

The defense lawyer, Jacob A. Stein, told the jury his client, Kenneth Wells Parkinson, had been "deceived" and "abused" by an assortment of White House and Nixon re-election campaign officials - including two of his co-defendants, former Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell and former assistant Atty. Gen. Robert C. Mardian - when he was retained by the Nixon campaign in the summer of 1972 to handle the legal problems stemming from the Watergate

Stein began to weep when he told the jury, toward the end of his argument, of Parkinson's good reputation, built up over more than 20 years as a lawyer.

Stein was followed by Richard Ben-Veniste, giving the government's rebuttal to the closing argument that had been made on behalf of H. R. Haldeman, once President Nixon's White House chief of staff and now another of the five defen-evidence proved the charges against the other four defendants - Mitchell, Mardian, Parkinson, and John D. Ehrlichman, once Nixon's chief domestic affairs adviser.

All five defendants are charged with the basic conspiracy count; all but Mardian are charged with obstruction of justice as well. Mitchell and Haldeman each face three additional perjury charges; Ehrlichman, two perjury counts. Stein portrayed Parkinson as an "innocent" lawyer with no experience in politics who was made into a "sitting duck" by various people at the campaign committee. He said Parkinson had had no reason to suspect Mitchell or the others — who were at that time "important people, the kind of people you'd want to meet, you'd like to drop their names. So Parkinson proceeded trusting in them, and acting simply as a lawyer, "giving his all" to his client. governor. Bumpers and his legal advisor, Richard Arnold of Texarkana, had said Thursday that did not believe the two constitutional provisions would bar Bumpers from finishing his term. Another state constitution provision kept Bumpers from taking advantage of the fact that J. William Fulbright, whom he defeated for the Senate seat, has resigned effective Dec. 31. The constitution says that a governor cannot resign to accept a Senate appointment.

An appointment effective Dec. 31 would have given Bumpers a seniority advantage over some other freshman senators.

15 Killed On Train At Lisbon

LISBON, Portugal (AP) -Two passenger trains collided near Lisbon's main station Friday, overturning a secondclass car filled with travelers. Fifteen persons were killed and 82 injured, officials said.

Eyewitnesses said the trains were traveling in opposite directions on adjacent tracks and neither was going faster than 40 miles an hour when the accident took place.

They said the last car of the six-car train swayed wildly as it left the station and swung into the path of the inbound three-car train, which was already slowing as it neared the platform.

They said the driver of the incoming train braked but could not avoid the swaying carriage. The collision tore the side of the carriage open and bounced one of the trains 50 yards up the track before it came to a stop. Ambulances from all over Lisbon ran relays from the railyard outside the station to Sao Jose and Santa Maria

Pirates, Rangers' Officials Latest To Talk With Hunter

AHOSKIE, N. C. (AP) - Catfish Hunter's attorney said Friday night that the field has been narrowed to eight teams in the bidding for the services of the former Oakland righthander.

He did not specify the eight teams.

Joseph Flythe, the attorney who has been handling the negotiations for the free-agent pitcher, said in a telephone interview that "all of the teams were obviously interested in Jim. But some didn't offer a real good contract.

"So frankly we told them right then and there that there is just no way" they could sign baseball's hottest property.

After snipping two-thirds of the list of the 24 eligible baseball teams, Flythe said eight teams remained. "They are scattered all over the country," he said.

He did say, however, that one of the teams was the A's, who lost the 1974 Cy Young Award winner when an arbitration panel ruled on Dec. 16 that Oakland owner Charles O. Finley had violated Hunter's contract.

Then, expressing what he called a personal opinion, Flythe said: "I feel that Hunter would rather play on the East coast. Flythe said that Hunter had played in cities of all of the remaining teams but one during the regular or exhibition season. He added that two of the eligible teams had not made personal appeals in Ahoskie but made their bids by telephone. One of those two is Oakland.

The teams that have journeyed to this tobacco farming community are: New York Yankees, Boston Red Sox, San Diego Padres, Texas Rangers, Milwaukee Brewers, Los Angeles Dodgers, Cleveland Indians, Philadelphia Phillies, California Angels, Pittsburgh Pirates, Houston Astros, Montreal Expos. The teams that have pulled out are the Detroit Tigers,

Gators Pass Quite A Bit

New Orleans, La. - Although Florida averaged throwing just short of an average of 13 passes a game en route to an 8-3 season which earned the Gators a Sugar Bowl berth against Nebraska, passing isn't a particular concern of NU coach Tom

"I still think the primary concern when you play against a wishbone team has to be the running game even though they do throw well," Osborne said Friday after his Cornhuskers held their final workout in pads.

Wishbone teams all run the same plays, but the proportion of what they run differs depending on personnel, Osborne said. "Some will run options more, some will run inside more,"

he said. "They try to capitalize on individual strengths. For instance, the counter dive is probably Oklahoma's No. 1 play. They get everything going one way and then pop Joe Washington back on a dive play to the weak side."

He said Florida doesn't run that play as much because the Gators probably don't have the one back they plan to capitalize on like Washington.

"But they've got a very good fullback in Jimmy DuBose," Osborne quickly added. "I think he might be better than (Jim) Littrell (OU's fullback). He's just a good football player."

The Husker coach said Florida has a good runner in freshman Tony Green, who rushed for 856 yards to set a single season Gator school record while starting only two of 11 regular

"Maybe he's not a Joe Washington, but he's a great back," Osborne added. Green's average per rush was 6.4 yards, a figure topped only by wingback Don Westbrook among Husker regulars. Westbrook's average was 6.8 yards while I-back Monte Anthony averaged 5.4 yards in leading NU ball carriers. Tony Davis and John O'Leary each averaged an even five yards.

Quarterbacks Share Duty

Florida has two quarterbacks who play almost equal time even though Don Gaffney has gotten the most pre-bowl publicity. The other one is freshman Jimmy Fisher.

"Gaffney is probably a more elusive runner than either of the wishbone quarterbacks we've faced, but he's probably not as strong as Steve Davis of Oklahoma," Osborne said, "Davis is a strong runner with great execution." The other wishbone QB was Charlie Weatherbie of Oklahoma State.

Between Gaffney and Fisher, the total yardage gained was 542 before subtracting losses while attempting to pass. Each got loose for at least one long run to indicate they're dangerous

So, the combination of the fullback DuBose, halfback Green, and the quarterbacks easily explains why Osborne is more concerned about the Gator running game.

The NU coach also was impressed by the play of Florida's offensive and defensive lines, which he said have good size. "Somehow I pictured them as not being that big, but they're very big and very mobile," he said.

"Defensively I was tremendously impressed with them in the game I saw personally against Miami," Osborne said. "They would definitely have to be as good a defensive team as any we've faced this year, including Oklahoma."

He didn't think Oklahoma was as good on defense this year as last season, but he said the Sooners' good offense controls the ball so well their defense doesn't have a lot of heat put on it. "The other team just never has the football," he concluded.

The San Francisco Giants never made a bid for Hunter. That leaves the New York Mets, Chicago Cub's and Chicago White Sox as teams who have neither made personal appearances nor pulled out of the sweepstakes. The brass from the Pittsburgh Pirates and the Texas Rangers came to this tobacco farming community Friday to talk to

Hunter and his attorneys met with both delegations, and Hunter said he would begin considering all initial offers on Sunday. He said he would visit the citles with the best bids, and would make no decision as to which team he will play for until at least Jan. 8. In other developments, the Cincinnati Reds and Houston

Astros became the fifth and sixth teams to formally drop out of the bidding for the 28-year-old Hunter, and the Minnesota Twins were reported ready to offer the former Oakland A's ace a $1.2 million contract.

And Hunter disclosed Friday evening that he had eaten dinner at his home in nearby Hertford Thursday night with A's Manager Alvin Dark. Hunter said he and Dark discussed several things but did not go into the specifics of the unique case in which the sport's top-rate pitcher has become a free agent who will get a contract worth more than a million dollars.

General Manager Joe L. Brown and President Dan Galbreath presented the Pirates' case in two meetings Friday, one in the morning and the other late in the afternoon. The Rangers sent an eight-man delegation, headed by General Manager Daniel F. O'Brien.

Brown and O'Brien both said they thought the addition of

Hunter to their teams would guarantee them a divisional title, and both said they had made offers to Hunter.

"It would absolutely make the difference in our club," said Galbreath. "Any contending team, plus a 20-game winner, will make the difference in who wins their division. He's (Hunter) the finest pitcher in baseball."

O'Brien, who passed out cowboy hats to Hunter and his attorneys at the law offices of Cherry, Cherry and Flythe, said, "Coupled with Ferguson Jenkins, it would be two great righthanders and we would definitely win the pennant.

Hunter said he and his attorneys would study the 12 offers they have, and that he would then visit the cities with the best offers to study suburban areas where his fa nily might live.

Hunter said he would not sign with any team until that search is completed, meaning it would be at least Jan. 8 before some club's offer results in the employment of the former Oakland pitcher who has won 106 games in the past five seasons.

Hunter did not specifically say which cities he would visit, but in explaining his decision to wait for 10 days to make a decision. he mentioned New York as one area he would want to visit before committing himself to living there. The Yankees have met twice with the pitcher and his attorneys. After the Pirates' 90-minute morning session with Hunter and his attorneys, Galbreath said the meeting had been a good one. After the 45-minute afternoon meeting, Brown said, "It would be premature for me to speculate on our chances ... You'll have to ask Catfish what our chances are."

The meeting with the Rangers also lasted about 45 minutes. The Houston Astros, represented by General Manager Spec. Richardson, were to have met with Hunter Friday afternoon, and Cincinnati Reds' General Manager Bob Howsam was to have been here Saturday morning. But both teams dropped out of the bidding on Friday.

Other teams to remove themselves from the Catfish sweepstakes are St. Louis, Baltimore and Detroit. Four teams, including Oakland, have never contacted Hunter's attorneys. In Minneapolis, where the Twins were reported to have offered Hunter $1.2 million to try and lift their record and sagging attendance, team President Calvin Griffith said:

"We're going to go slightly over a million. The Hunter matter is one of those once in a lifetime happenings. I think most of our players would be glad to see us get Hunter because it might addabout $25,000 to their contracts if he pitched us into the World But in Cincinnati, Howsam said his team had decided not to compete with the high rollers because "the dollar and economic factors are so bad that it would not be fair to the present players on our club, our fans or the club itself for the Reds to continue.' The bidding for Hunter began two weeks ago when a three-

man arbitration panel ruled Oakland owner Charles O. Finleyhad failed to live up the terms of Hunter's contract. A hearing on Finley's motion for an injunction against the arbitration decision is scheduled for Jan. 3 in California.

It was not clear Friday whether Hunter and his attorneys would meet with any more teams before beginning final consideration of the offers. There were no meetings scheduled, but, a team could presumably put in a last-minute pitch before the

CRETE, Neb. (AP)-Alert defense by guards Tim McLaughlin and Joe Wharton caused numerous McPherson turnovers to give Doane College a 100-56 victory in the first round of the Doane Holiday basketball tournament Friday. Doane led by 20 points with eight minutes left in the first half and was never challenged. Mario Peart of Doane was high scorer with 27. Matt Duerksen scored 14 for McPherson. Doane will play William Jewell in Saturday night's championship game and McPherson will face Bellevue for third

Hastings Sets School Record

HASTINGS, Neb. (AP)-Hastings tied a school scoring record and handed Peru its ninth straght defeat in lambasting the Bobcats 132-55 in the first round of the Hastings Holiday basketball tournament Friday night.

Eight Hastings players scored in double figures but Freeman Beville of Peru was game high scorer with 21 points. Bob Parminter, Kert McCeone and Pat Sitorius each had 16 for Hastings. Hastings will face Yankton them," added Pieper, noting that the 2-1-2 "matchup" press at mid-court caused a flurry of Raymond Central turnovers and prevented offensive penetration. Central coach Bill Hellerich credited a superior Friend effort on the boards for the victory.

College for the championship Saturday and Peru will meet Bethany in the consolation game.

Friend commanded a decisive 38-28 rebounding edge with 6-3 Craig Jochim and 6-2 Bob Rohrig doing most of the damage. Jochim retrieved 15 rebounds, including 10 in the second half, while Rohrig speared 10. Friend also collaborated for a

But Central still wasn't through challenging. Dave Christensen's two free throws with 27 seconds left and a Friend turnover four seconds later gave the Mustangs life.

Ubben was fouled with 18 seconds left. He fired in the front end of the 2-shot foul to make it 52-50, but missed the second shot and Jochim's two charities with 17 seconds remaining completed the scoring.

Dorchester's deliberate style of play produced a 10-8 lead over highly favored Shickley after the first quarter.

But the Longhorns erupted for 26 second quarter points and the issue never was in doubt the rest of the way. Stan Dowdy (18), Rich Dondlinger (16), Bill Anderson (13) and Brad Schweitzer (10) all reached double scoring figures for Shickley.

International Trips Scheduled By 4-H

4-H'ers who apply to participate in a variety of international programs. Because the due dates for those applications fall in January, interested youth are urged to check with their county Extension office for application blanks now.

To allow more people to participate, the deadline for the international 4-H programs has been set back to Jan. 15, announced Dr. John D. Orr, Associate State 4-H Leader. These programs include the Nebraska-Japan Exchange, the International 4-H Youth Exchange Representative (IFYE), Teen Caravan and IFYE Ambassador.

The Japanese program got off to a flying start last year when over 120 Japanese youth between 11-19 years of age visited in Nebraska for a month while 63 Nebraskans traveled to Japan. The 1975 schedule calls for another group of Nebraska 4-H'ers to visit Japan July 23-Aug. 22 under a projected cost of $950 per person. The minimum age is 13 years, said Orr. This experience is open to a limited number of adults who will serve as coordinators.

The IFYE Representative program offers an in-depth experience in one country with an optional personal-expense travel period. Most live with host families. Individuals 19-25 years of age are eligible and the programs are from 10 weeks to five months. Departures are in spring, summer and fall to all continents, involving 25 countries. There is a $1,300 U.S. delegate fee and Nebraska has several sponsors who help finance individuals.

The Teen Caravan program offers a four to eight week stay in a country with a host family arrangement. Young people 17-20 are eligible to join a Caravan for Europe, Asia, the Caribbean, or Central America. Costs range from $825 to $1,-

The Ambassador program offers a group experience with an opportunity to visit several countries, live with host families, and become acquainted with other languages through a planned program led by qualified group leaders. High school freshmen through seniors are eligible for this

Other programs for adults include the International Youth Development Project (YDP), International Extension 4-H Travel Seminars, and Professional Rural Youth Leader Exchange (PYRLE).

LES Hikes Downtown Steam Charge By 81%

By LYNN ZERSCHLING Star Staff Writer

Despite repeated protests from downtown businessmen, the Lincoln Electric System (LES) Administrative Board Friday hiked steam rates

The board urged City Council adoption of the rate increase for implementation Jan. 1.

Attorney J. Taylor Greer, calling the proposed rates "exorbitant," said he will take the businessmen's case to the City Council Monday night in an effort to overturn the board's decision. Successful Earlier

Greer was successful earlier this year in getting the council to overturn another LES Board decision on the closing date for the K St. power plant, which produces the steam. The board had set'a 1976 closing date for the plant. The lawmakers extended that deadline until 1977.

The one-year extension will enable the city to study the possibility of building a central plant which would burn garbage for fuel, the council will force many LES customers to convert to another force of fuel, thus foreclosing the possibility of hooking into a central heating plant. Pay Fair Share'

Greer charged that the higher steam rates

LES officials have argued that other electric ratepayers have footed the bill long enough for downtown steam users and contend that the steam customers should pay "their fair share."

According to LES figures, that share will be upped 81% from an average bill of $5 per 1,000 pounds of steam to $9.07 per 1,000 pounds of

Greer charged that LES is improperly charging steam customers for other K St. operation costs and for electricity generated at the

LES Board member Betty McClendon said the board is vitally interested in keeping the downtown strong but argued that continuing the present subsidy to downtown merchants is not the way to do the job. She suggested the city could help the downtown by building more parking facilities which would benefit both the businessmen and the public.

Group Favors Concentrating On Redevelopment Of Clinton

A subcommittee recom- most of next year's federal Clinton area alone. The group mended Friday that most of the $499,000 in federal community development money expected next year be channeled into the Clinton neighborhood.

That recommendation will be forwarded to the city's Community Development Task Force which is compiling a oneand three-vear development program for Lincoln's neighborhoods.

Several representatives from other areas have questioned whether the Clinton neighborhood should receive

Jury To Balance Watergate Account ©The New Hork Times

Washington — The prosecution wound up the final arguments at the Watergate cover-up trial Friday by telling the jurors it was now up to them to "balance the accounts" and close the ledgers on Watergate.

The jury will begin deliberation on Monday, after instructions by Judge John J.

"It's no fun casting stones," the chief prosecutor, James F. Neal, told the jury. "This government that's represented here does not cast stones with joy or happiness.

"But to keep society going, stones must be cast. People must be called to account."

Neal's appeal capped a full and often emotional day in which one of the defense lawyers, summing up the case before his client, wept openly, and another of the prosecutors, summing up part of the government's case, told of his pride that the country was "confident" and strong enough to have such a trial.

the jury his client, Kenneth Wells Parkinson, had been "deceived" and "abused" by an assortment of White House and Nixon re-election campaign officials - including two of his co-defendants, former Atty, Gen. John N. Mitchell and former assistant Atty. Gen. Robert C. Mardian - when he was retained by the Nixon campaign in the summer of 1972 to handle the legal problems stemming from the Watergate

The defense lawyer, Jacob A. Stein, told

Stein began to weep when he told the jury, toward the end of his argument, of Parkinson's good reputation, built up over more than 20 years as a lawyer.

Stein was followed by Richard Ben-Veniste, giving the government's rebuttal to the closing argument that had been made on behalf of H. R. Haldeman, once President Nixon's White House chief of staff and now another of the five defendants on trial.

Stein argued that the evidence did not support the two charges against Parkinson, conspiracy to obstruct justice and obstruction of justice. Ben-Veniste argued that the evidence proved the charges against Haldeman, and Neal argued that the evidence proved the charges against the other four defendants - Mitchell, Mardian, Parkinson, and John D. Ehrlichman, once Nixon's chief domestic affairs adviser. All five defendants are charged with the basic conspiracy count; all but Mardian are charged with obstruction of justice as well. Mitchell and Haldeman each face three additional perjury charges; Ehrlichman, two perjury counts. Stein portrayed Parkinson as an "in-

suspect Mitchell or the others — who were at that time "important people, the kind of people you'd want to meet, you'd like to drop their names.'

So Parkinson proceeded trusting in them, and acting simply as a lawyer, "giving his all" to his client.

Neal had given the government's sum-resigned or will resign before mation before the defense summation their present terms expire Jan. began. The statements that Ben-Veniste 3. and Neal gave the jury later were designed to rebut the various defense statements. The government is allowed to put on a rebuttal argument because it carries the burden of proof in a criminal case.

Bumpers To Resign

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) -Gov. Dale Bumpers announced Friday that he will resign at noon Jan. 3 so he may take his seat in the U.S. Senate at the earliest possible moment without legal complications.

Lt. Gov. Bob Riley will serve the remainder of Bumpers' term, which runs until Jan. 14.

Bumpers' announcement at a news conference ended weeks of speculation over how he would handle the move from the state capital to Washington.

After Bumpers' announcement Riley said in a statement telephoned to news media that he regarded his role as interim governor "simply as one of making the transition smoother." Bumpers was caught in a constitutional dilemma. The U.S. constitution says the term of a newly elected senator begins at noon Jan. 3. The state constitution declares that no member of Congress may hold the office of governor. Bumpers and his legal advisor,

Richard Arnold of Texarkana, had said Thursday that did not believe the two constitutional provisions would bar Bumpers from finishing his term.

Another state constitution provision kept Bumpers from taking advantage of the fact that J. William Fulbright, whom he defeated for the Senate seat, has resigned effective Dec. 31. The constitution says that a governor cannot resign to accept a Senate appointment.

An appointment effective Dec. 31 would have given Bumpers a seniority advantage over some other freshman senators.

Ervin, Cook Resigning Early

WASHINGTON (AP) - Sens. Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., and Marlow W. Cook, R-Ky., joined on Friday the list of senators resigning before the expiration of their terms.

The latest count shows that eight of the 11 senators not returning for the new 94th Congress, either because of defeat or retirement, have

International Trips Scheduled By 4-H

The new-year could bring new adventures to Nebraska's 4-H'ers who apply to participate in a variety of international programs. Because the due dates for those applications fall in January, interested youth are urged to check with their county Extension office for application blanks now.

To allow more people to participate, the deadline for the international 4-H programs has been set back to Jan. 15, announced Dr. John D. Orr, Associate State 4-H Leader. These programs include the Nebraska-Japan Exchange, the International 4-H Youth Exchange Representative (IFYE), Teen Caravan and IFYE Ambassador

The Japanese program got off to a flying start last year when over 120 Japanese youth between 11-19 years of age visited in Nebraska for a month while 63 Nebraskans traveled to Japan The 1975 schedule calls for another group of Nebraska 4-H'ers to visit Japan July 23-Aug. 22 under a projected cost of $950 per person. The minimum age is 13 years, said Orr. This experience is open to a limited number of adults who will serve as coordinators.

The IFYE Representative program offers an in-depth experience in one country with an optional personal-expense travel period. Most live with host families. Individuals 19-25 years of age are eligible and the programs are from 10 weeks to five months Departures are in spring, summer and fall to all continents, involving 25 countries There is a $1,300 U S delegate fee and Nebraska has several sponsors who help finance individuals.

The Teen Caravan program offers a four to eight week stay in a country with a host family arrangement. Young people 17-20 are eligible to join a Caravan for Europe, Asia, the Caribbean, or Central America. Costs range from $825 to $1,-

The Ambassador program offers a group experience with an opportunity to visit several countries, live with host families, and become acquainted with other languages through a planned program led by qualified group leaders High school freshmen through seniors are eligible for this program

Other programs for adults include the International Youth Development Project (YDP), International Extension 4-H Travel Seminars, and Professional Rural Youth Leader

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE - Here's how to work it: AXYDLBAAXR is LONGFELLOW

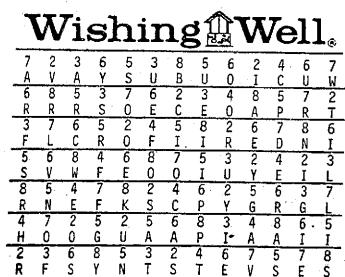

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

(© 1974 King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It's a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you. 12-28
